Mississippi gets sobering statistics

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber attended a Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), meeting for law enforcement officers in Jackson Thursday, when the statistics for 2003 were released.

In 2003 nationally, 42,643 people were killed in traffic crashes. 17,013 - or 40% of those killed - were in alcohol-related crashes. In Mississippi during 2003, there were 871 people killed in traffic crashes, 320 of those were killed in alcohol-related crashes for a percentage of 37. Mississippi had 29,012 DUI arrests and underage DUI arrests of 2,754 in 2003.

Mothers Against Drunk Driving recommend the following as what citizens can do to help lower the DUI and fatalities statistics.

They are:

* Don't drink and drive, and never get in a car with anyone who has been drinking.

* Be a designated driver.

* Wear your safety seat belt and be sure that children are properly secured in child safety seats.

* Be a responsible host. Do not let your guest drive after drinking alcohol and never serve alcohol to anyone under age 21.

* Support drunk driving and underage drinking prevention laws and victim's rights legislation by contacting your elected officials.

* Report drunk drivers immediately to law enforcement.

* And, Get involved. Call

(601) 939-0233 or 1-800-368-6233 for more information.

Sheriff Garber currently serves as vice-president of the state's Sheriff's Association.

Also making the trip from Hancock County to the MADD meeting was Major Bobby Underwood from the sheriff's office.

Water/Sewer officials eye budget

BY BENNIE

SHALBETTER

Staff Writer

Hancock County Water and Sewer officials are still not certain how they will balance the district's $2,958,367 proposed budget for the 2004/2005 fiscal year. Income for the district comes from water and sewer fees or from loans and grants earmarked for various projects.

Right now, comptroller Juanita Silcio says, the income and projected expenses don't match. District officials are continuing to work on solutions to the problem and hope they don't have to raise usage fees. An $11.30 per month raise has been proposed for sewer fees, but the raise has not been approved by the board of Commissioners.

A breakdown of the proposed budget shows $360,000 or 12 percent of the projected budget going for salaries. Another 8 percent of the funds are earmarked for employee insurance and retirement and payroll taxes. No raises are proposed for the 2004/2005 fiscal year.

Silcio said the district is working to keep expenses down by contracting much of the district's maintenance, thus avoiding the expense of a full time employee for maintenance work.

About 19 percent or $556,000 goes to Southern Regional Wastewater Management District for treatment costs. Until about three years ago, the county contributed directly to the district's treatment costs.

The county still contributes a share of the cost of running Southern Regional, but now the money is divided between all the member entities to reduce Southern Regional's debt service.

The district's largest expense goes to make debt and bond payments from dollars borrowed to complete various sewer and water projects. About 45 percent, or $1,329,367 of the district's budget will be funneled into debt service payments this next year. At present, the district is in the middle of laying 14 miles of lines in Phase 2 of a water project.

Other expenses include a projected $90,000 for legal fees, $70,000 for professional fees, $72,000 for utilities, $84,000 for field supplies, $25,000 for repairs and maintenance, and $30,000 for truck expenses.

Commissioners will meet tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the maintenance barn on Longfellow Rd. to discuss the budget and other matters.

Embezzlement charges filed against Poplarville woman

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A new office manager at a Hancock County timber company has been charged with embezzlement, according to Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber.

Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt said, "Rebecca Morris, 21, Poplarville, has been charged with alleged embezzlement at Starr Timber, Highway 53 in Hancock County. Morris was arrested on Saturday, Sept. 18. She posted a $5,000 bond at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility."

"The sheriff's office received a call from company owner Angela Beall on Saturday. Deputy Charles Lafontaine and Lt. Phillip Pavolini responded. Investigator John Luther was also called," Hurt reported.

Hurt continued, "Morris was hired in June by Beall as office manager. Some $3,930 is reportedly involved in incidents which are alleged to have occurred on August 11 and 18th."

Investigator Luther is handling the investigation.

Cuevas' Quotes

Ivan won't leave

Did you know? The City of Bay St. Louis' Mayor Eddie Favre made available facilities for the Area 3 Special Olympics Field Trials on Saturday.

Eddie and his 'cooking crew' also took it upon themselves to pay for and prepare meals for the 350 athletes and volunteers.

This was a 'last minute' request presented to Favre, when another city had promised to hold the Field Trials fall through. Eddie and Bay St. Louis came through for the Special Olympians. This was a one day event and I have been told by very reliable sources that the Field Trials would not have been able to be held if our city has not step forward for the young athletes.

Just when folks forgot all about Hurricane Ivan, it reappeared as a Tropical storm in the Gulf of Mexico.

One never knows what turn a hurricane will take, even after it has been down graded.

I do not think anyone ever thought some of Ivan would be back in the Gulf waters.

It so happens that on Wednesday and Thursday there was more water in Hancock County than the first time around for Ivan.

Several folks residing in Shoreline Park, Pearlinton and Heron Bay areas found this out, especially on Thursday morning. This time Ivan entered land near the Louisiana/Texas boundary.

It is hope this will be the last we hear of Hurricane Ivan.

The trash collection continues throughout the area.

Even without a direct strike to the county, lots of debris was created from the winds.

Piles of trash accumulated along every street as property owners began the cleanup task following Ivan.

With the area really being dry, folks need to be careful about possible starting fires too.

We received very little moisture from Ivan's pass and a small shower on Thursday.

This could dry out very fast with the high temperatures and winds.

The annual Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business & Industry EXPO was a great success Thursday.

There were hundreds of folks who visited the 95 booths at the EXPO. The number just increases each year and pretty soon the Civic Center will run out of room for any more exhibitors.

By the way, for some reason it seemed I was going to have to acquire a 'flack' jacket from the time I arrived at the event until I departed.

I received all types of 'threats', even from elected officials, it seems it had something to do with winning some money.

Gulf Coast deals with Ivan's Aftermath

Mississippi was spared the brunt of Hurricane Ivan's destructive force, but let's keep in mind three things: First, Ivan hit our neighbors in Alabama and Florida very hard, and it will take them months, perhaps years, to fully recover. We should continue praying for them and helping them. Second, Mississippians did the right thing by evacuating. This storm went east of us, but let's guard against second guessing our evacuation or becoming complacent. Finally, though we escaped major destruction, residents in ten Mississippi counties are eligible for federal assistance, and I urge people who've suffered damage from Ivan in Clarke, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Lauderdale, Perry, Stone and Wayne counties to inquire about their eligibility for federal help.

As a Gulf Coast resident, I understand all too well the impact hurricanes can have. On August 17, 1969, Mississippi became the target of history's worst recorded hurricane, and I was among many Mississippians in her path.

Like too many Coast residents, I decided to ride out Hurricane Camille and its more than 200 mile-per-hour winds and 25-foot storm surge. Like most, I didn't think it would be that bad, but nature proved we humans wrong yet again. When it was over, hundreds of people along Mississippi's coast were either dead or missing. Some were never found. Like a child kicking a sand castle, buildings were decimated. Huge oceangoing vessels were hoisted by the tidal surge and hurled far inland. Even graves were washed open. Like everyone on the coast that night, I'll always remember the catastrophic destruction and the deafening, terrifying roar. I'm one of many who vowed the next day never to ride out another hurricane.

No doubt, many Mississippians were thinking back to that terrible Sunday 35 years ago. Our evacuation from Ivan's potential path along designated escape routes was slow, but sure, steady and smooth. Drawing on lessons from our past, cities, towns, churches, and individuals all over our state readily took in those seeking shelter from Ivan. It shows what kind of people Mississippians are - people of character, of compassion and courage.

Even though Ivan caused minimal damage in Mississippi when compared to Alabama or Florida, let's remember the events of last week, and how we came together as a state. It brought out the best in us. Lives and property were indeed lost, but the impact was kept low by the measures taken.

We are reminded again of the sheer unpredictability of a hurricane's footprint and that the destruction doesn't stop on the coast. Ironically, while the always hurricane-prone areas of Harrison, Hancock and Jackson counties escaped Ivan with a few scratches, Ivan unexpectedly stretched out to sneak a hard punch far inland from Waynesboro to Meridian. Thankfully,

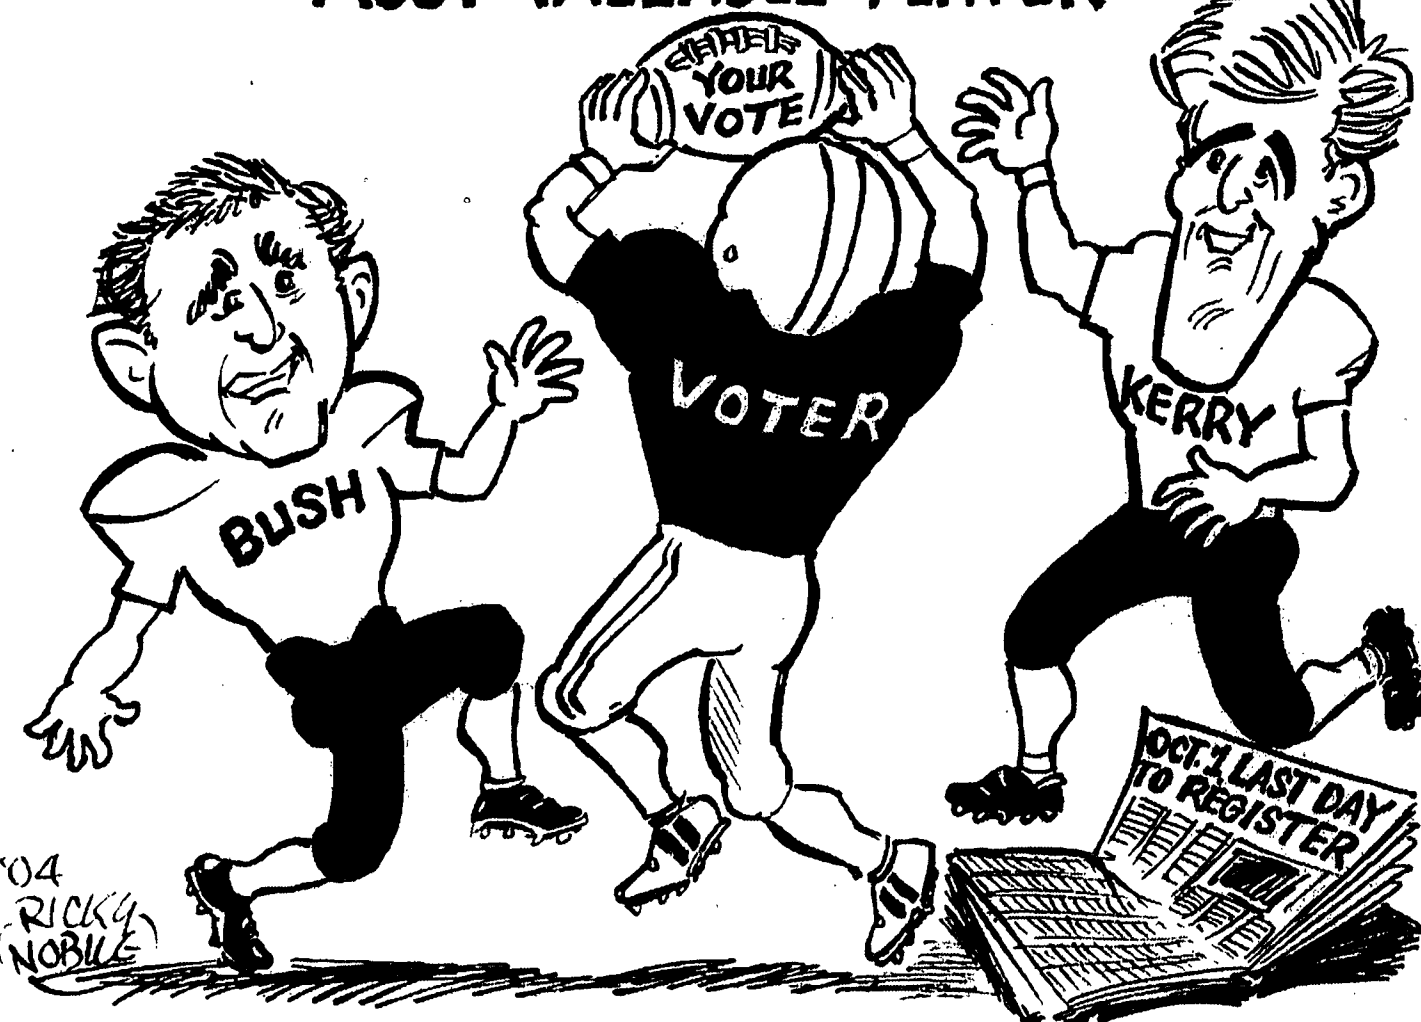

Governor Haley Barbour was well ahead of the curve, asking President Bush for disaster assistance even before the Hurricane hit. The President was quick to approve Mississippi's

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

We did well during Hurricane Ivan

Letter to the Editor, I wanted to take this opportunity to tell the people of Bay Saint Louis how proud I am of their actions during our recent brush with Hurricane Ivan. You reacted to our situation with good common sense and community civility and cooperation.

Your public service employees, once again, rose to the highest level of service to the community they serve. Public works secured as many of your public assets as was in their power to protect from potential damage.

Police officers never stopped patrols protecting our citizens from potential looting and other mischief. They were the first on the scene in the few emergencies we encountered. Firemen responded to a home fire in 60+ mph winds and quickly addressed the problem, reducing damage to a minimum.

Administrative personnel secured and protected vital records and would have been ready to resume the operation of the city immediately, even if we had taken a major storm hit.

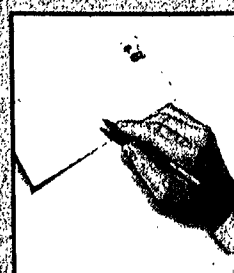

It was our great fortune that our governing officials respected each other's responsibilities and worked as a team with our Emergency Management Agency and its director, Brian Adam, and other state emergency officials to have an orderly evacuation and a quick resumption of everyday life in the Hancock County community.

I especially want to recognize our fire and police personnel who worked with representatives of the Department of Human Services to manage the city's refuge center at Second Street Elementary.

Our letters policy

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. Only one letter per writer per month. The editor reserves the right to edit or reject letters. Letters of thanks, expressions of appreciation and political endorsements are inappropriate.

While we could not have a Red Cross sponsored shelter because we had a mandatory evacuation we made every effort to offer our citizens who could not leave a safe harbor.

We were blessed to survive with only minor damages when compared to the devastation of our Gulf Shores and Pensacola neighbors.

Thank you for your adherence to the rules of the day including your observation of a mandatory curfew. Wednesday night was one I was very glad to see no one on the streets.

Everyone had a job to do and you did yours. Everyone had rules to follow and you did.

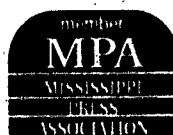

Everyone needed to be respectful and cooperative and you were. Thank you. God bless you, and smile, it's a beautiful day for us.

Sincerely,
Mayor Eddie Favre

JL Scott Marine Visits St. Clare School

J.L. Scott Aquarium "ON THE ROAD" series came to St. Clare School last week. Four experts equipped with alligators, snakes, seining nets, gaff devices and lots of knowledge enchanted the students with a real hands on presentation. The students waded into the waters, located right in front of the school, in search of fish, crabs, brown shrimp and all sorts of surprises that only the Gulf can hold. The two-hour presentation educated and provided the students and teachers alike with an afternoon full of environmental science. Diamondhead Community Association to discuss services

On Thursday, September 30, 2004 at 7 p.m. in the Diamondhead Country Club, the DCA will host a community meeting which any interested DH resident is invited to attend. The intent of the meetings is to define respective areas of services and operational responsibilities in DH.

Addressing the meeting will be the four principal services providers, Mr. Lloyd Ramirez, President of the POA; Mr. Carl Jaffe, Representative of Purcell Corporation; Mr. Dennis Westbrook, Chief of the DH Fire Department; Mr. Mike Collard, Manager of the DH Water and Sewer District. Each speaker will address the services they are responsible for providing, their interface with the community and anticipated future changes that may impact those services.

Ample time will be allowed for attendees to ask questions of the speakers.

request, and, as of this writing, people in the ten aforementioned counties may apply for disaster assistance by calling the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) toll free registration line at 1-800-621-FEMA. FEMA has opened relief centers in Pascagoula, Lucedale and Waynesboro. Already during this busy hurricane season the federal government will spend $8 billion in hurricane disaster relief, and we stand ready to increase that number if needed.

Finally, if you have something you can contribute to the pressing hurricane relief effort in Alabama and the Florida panhandle please do so. Simple things like ice, water, food, clothing and other basic necessities are a blessing to hurricane victims. Ivan's victims are truly neighbors. Each year thousands of Mississippians enjoy the beautiful sights and hospitality of Mobile, Fairhope, Orange Beach, Gulf Shores, Pensacola or Destin, and vice versa. Let's take that neighborly spirit and turn it eastward, remembering our own terrible ordeal 35 years ago. Let's never forget the destruction hurricanes can cause and the lives we save when we take precautions, help each other and, most of all, leave a hurricane's path.

(This proposed Constitutional Amendment provides that Marriage may take place and may be valid under the Laws of this State only between a Man and a Woman.

The Amendment also provides that a Marriage in another foreign state or foreign jurisdiction between persons of the same Gender may not be recognized in this State and is void and unenforceable under the Laws of this State.

Registered -- voters

"A lot of them were mailing, but lately we've gotten mostly walk-ins," she said.

Ruhr said that she went to Hancock High earlier in the school year to explain to students how the registration system worked. Many students who were of voting age were able to fill out registration forms after her presentation.

Superintendent David Kopf of the Hancock County School District said that this, as well as another program the district was working on, aimed to help the county's youth understand their civic responsibility.

"They (will) put a voting booth at each area where people will vote. One booth is dedicated specifically for children. We're going to have that program throughout the voting district," Kopf said.

The figures, as of Sept. 22, show that 1062 voters have registered since July 1. There is still a week left until registration is closed on Friday, Oct. 1.

The final tally for the 2000 presidential election was 952 new registered voters between July 1 and Oct. 1.

Lila Taylor, also a deputy clerk, said this increase in voter registration likely came from the upcoming Presidential election.

"In a normal month, you get less than 200," Taylor said.

DMR announces changes to Live Bait Shrimping Ordinance

THE SEA COAST ECHO The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) has announced updates to the live bait shrimping ordinance approved by the Commission on Marine Resources at its September 21, 2004 meeting.

Highlights are:

Section 1. Chum shall be defined as fish and invertebrates (excluding marine shrimp and crabs);

Section 3.A) A provision has been added to allow for the transfer of a bait from one camp to another in the instance the original bait dealer has its license revoked or otherwise shut out of business (with restrictions);

Section 4.A) (4) A licensed bait dealer must be accessible to the general public by public road and within 100 yards of a navigable waterway consistent with current state statute;

Section 4.B) Shrimp caught and sold must be reported in numbers not pounds;

Section 4.G) Effective May 1, 2005, all licensed live bait dealers must display a sign visible from the nearest public road advertising "live bait" and stating the camp's name;

Section 4.G) All camps must have a facility adequate to serve the public safely and must meet all requirements necessary to legally operate a business in their area;

Section 4.L) A provision has been added to allow camps to buy from one another and commercial shrimpers;

Section 4.M) Licensed live bait dealers and commercial shrimp operations are prohibited from sharing facilities or premises;

Section 4.N) If a live bait dealer wishes to sell prepared shrimp food items he/she must retain invoices to prove that those items were bought from a properly licensed commercial supplier and their sale to the public;

Section 4.O) A provision has been added to allow for license transfer in the event a camp is sold during a license year;

Section 8. Allow for native marine shrimp species of to be raised in aquaculture facilities for bait; and

Section 9. Bait camps boats and transport vehicles may be inspected for compliance during operating hours or any time they may be in use.

If you have would like a copy of the revised ordinance in its entirety or have any questions about the proposed updates please feel free to contact the DMR Shrimp and Crab Bureau at (228) 374-5000.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes.

Hancock County Building/Zoning

Effective October 1, 2004, all power connections within the unincorporated areas of Hancock County including Port & Harbor, Stennis Airport, Diamondhead and all other areas not in the city limits of Bay St. Louis, or Waveland.

Mobile Homes will be given a Certificate of Compliance stamped "NO POWER". This Certificate will be used to place mobile homes on site and allow tie downs, sewer & water, and electrical connections to be made.

Once found to be in full Compliance, a Certificate of Occupancy will be issued giving the utility company the right to install power service.

Commercial & Residential New Construction will be given a Certificate of Compliance to allow Temporary Power during construction for a period not to exceed 180 days.

Once construction is complete, sewer hookups are made and signed off on by the correct district a Certificate of Occupancy can be called for and once received permanent power may be issued to the customer.

Existing structures (mobile homes and conventional and commercial) will require a GOLD COPY of either a power transfer Compliance Certificate or a Certificate of Occupancy before being issued permanent power.

Once power has been disconnected for any reason, a power transfer Compliance Certificate or Certificate of Occupancy must be received. Any questions or concerns should be directed to the Building Official's Office.

Any Temporary Power found to be in Non-Compliance or Expired may be at any time ordered in writing by the Building Official to be discontinued as pursuant to Section 900 of the Hancock County Zoning Text and agreed to in writing in advance by the applicant.

In addition: An after the fact permit fee has been established by the Hancock County Planning Commission and ratified by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to be effective October 1, 2004.

This permit fee will be twice that of the normal permit fee.

A portion of the penalty fee will be applied back to Planning and Zoning and for public outreach and information.

Celebrate the Gulf

Marine Education Festival in Pass Christian

At Saturday's Celebrate the Gulf Marine Education Festival, children and adults alike experienced everything from crawling through the ever-popular "turtle hurdle" and boarding a Marine Patrol boat, to learning about native plants, birds and marine life first-hand. Demonstrations of flyfishing techniques and the safe operation of canoes and kayaks were also offered during the festival, and dozens of junior anglers threw a line in for the catch-and-release fishing rodeo.

Bay-Waveland mentor training

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Bay-Waveland's Donna Torres, Title I program director, believes that the investment of an hour working as a mentor with a student-at-risk has far greater returns than most people can even guess.

"People who give their time as mentors soon realize that it isn't just the student who is benefiting from the relationship," Torres said. "The mentors often find they are rewarded with an overwhelming sense that they have made a difference."

The Community Mentor Program of the Bay-Waveland School District matches caring adult role models with young children identified as at-risk. "The mission of the mentor program is to help children strengthen their skills, develop their values, and realize their full potential," Torres said. "We are looking for adult volunteers who are willing to help children learn how to participate in their community, succeed in their personal lives and to achieve their highest goals."

What is the role of a mentor?
A mentor, Torres explained, is an adult willing to give at least one hour a week to a student who needs an additional positive role model in his or her life. Activities can include helping with assignments, attending school programs and functions in support of the student's participation, listening to the student read or reading what they have written.

"A mentor will work one-to-one with the student during the school day or after school hours. The program boils down to the adult becoming a friend who cares about how the student is performing in and out of school," she said.

A training session, required for new mentors, is scheduled at 6 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 30 in the Waveland Branch of the Hancock County Library-System, 333 Coleman Ave.

New mentors are subject to a background check before qualifying. The Mentor program is funded through Title I and Title IV.

For additional information, contact Donna Torres, program director, at (228) 467-0444 or Katherine Wilson, parent liaison, at (228) 467-6630.

Casinos dodge Ivan's fury

BY JACK ELLIOTT JR.
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

Hurricane Ivan's swerve to the east did more than spare the Mississippi coast from the devastation wrought on Alabama and the Florida Panhandle.

The course of the storm saved the 12 coast casinos, including seven clustered in east Biloxi, from savage winds and torrential rain.

Since casino construction began on the Gulf Coast in the 1990s, local and state officials have feared the havoc a hurricane on the scale of Camille would inflict on the high-rise hotels and floating gambling barges. Camille, a Category 5 killer, struck the Mississippi coast in 1969 with winds of 200 mph plus.

The hurricane threat brings another wrinkle to the debate over whether to allow casinos to leave the water and locate on land.

Gaming Commission Chairman Len Blackwell, who leaves the regulatory body Sept. 30, has advocated allowing the casinos to abandon the floating barges for the safety of land.

At this spring's Southern Gaming Summit, Blackwell said that within strict guidelines, the casinos should be moved onto land near their current locations.

In Mississippi, casinos can locate along the Mississippi River or the Mississippi Sound or tributaries that connect to them. Most barges sit in man-made lagoons or coffer dams connected to the main body of water.

Casinos already have spent hundreds of millions of dollars in following the dictates of the law on where they can locate. The question is whether allowing casinos to go on land will cost the casino companies.

A Mississippi Ad Hoc Gaming Committee, comprised of coastal and governmental interests, is expected by mid-November to make recommendations on how gambling barges can be protected from storms. It is weighing economic numbers, engineering studies, environmental impacts and legal issues.

The gaming industry brings in nearly $3 billion annually in Mississippi, third in the market behind Las Vegas and Atlantic City.

In August 1992, the Isle of Capri Casino opened in Biloxi, named after the Isle of Caprice in the Mississippi Sound. Casino gambling became legal in Mississippi after lawmakers pledged to religious organizations that gambling wouldn't expand beyond the coastal and Mississippi River counties.

There's the tightrope Mississippi lawmakers must walk when addressing issues related to the casinos, says state Rep. Bobby Moak.

Moak, a Democrat from Bogie Chitto and chairman of the House Gaming Committee, says whatever the industry seeks or the ad hoc committee suggests requires bringing the Gaming Act before the Legislature.

There, Moak says, "you have to deal with the political nature" of the Legislature and the opponents of gambling.

"It costs us about 400,000 bucks a day in tax revenue when those casinos are closed down on the coast," Moak said.

"Whether you are for them or against them, these folks produce a lot of taxes for the coffers, not only locally but in the state general fund.... A lot of jobs are provided and a lot of families depend on the paychecks that come from this industry."

Moak said lawmakers should give the industry "the opportunity to sit down and talk to them about what are their future business plans."

"I look at the state as a client and the state wants to make sure they are healthy and continue pumping that money into the state treasury," Moak said.

Johnson promoted at Coast Electric

Guy Johnson was recently promoted to Manager of Economic Development at Coast Electric Power Association. Johnson, a 17-year veteran of the association, was hired as a system engineer in 1987 and was promoted to senior system engineer in 1997.

"We have complete confidence in Guy's ability and know that he will succeed in his new position. He brings with him valuable experience in economic development that will stimulate growth in the Association's three county service area," said Robert Occhi, Coast Electric General Manager.

Johnson, a registered professional engineer (P.E.), holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from Mississippi State University and is a member of the Institute for Electrical and Electronic Engineers (IEEE).

As a result of hurricane Ivan, the city of Pass Christian has recently adopted a ban on all outdoor burning. The ban will remain in effect until the Fire Chief recommends otherwise.

Dodge drive

North Bay Elementary Principal Frances Weller accepts a $585 check on behalf of the school from Champion Chrysler/Dodge/Jeep General Sales Manager Gary Fitzhugh. The money was raised through the Dodge Drive for Kids program, in which Champion partnered with North Bay. During the month of the promotion, the school earned $5 from Champion every time someone test drove a mini-van at Champion's Bay St. Louis location, then filled out a questionnaire about their experience. Delta to add daily jet service to Atlanta

Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport has announced that Delta Airlines is adding an additional daily flight to Atlanta, featuring the Boeing 737. This all-jet service will offer travelers from South Mississippi and the Gulf Coast more comfort, convenience and frequency in flight times.

This new schedule will be effective January 31, 2005, the Boeing 737 Service will depart Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport at 1:35pm with arrival in Atlanta at 3:55pm. "The additional seats and the new daily 737 jet service will enable the Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport to take a step closer in achieving one million annual passengers", said Ken Spirito, Assistant Executive Director of Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport.

With eight daily flights to Atlanta and one daily non-stop flight to Orlando, Delta Airlines and Delta Connection carriers ASA and Chautauqua will offer a total of 520 departing seats from the Gulfport-Biloxi International Airport.

SSC slams Hornets for 47-10 homecoming win

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws stung the East Central Hornets 47-10 before an SRO homecoming crowd in between the walls at the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex on Friday.

The Rocks (3-1) scored seven touchdowns on the night while showing a balanced offensive attack for the alumni on hand. SSC threw for 196 yards and rushed for another 105 yards while allowing just 111 yards of total offense for East Central (2-3).

In the first half, the Rocks did not allow a Hornet first down and held East Central to minus-12 yards of offense en route to a 34-0 score. SSC racked up 268 yards of offense and 15 first downs in the first half.

SSC opened the game on offense but had to punt away to the Hornets. Jordan Ellis, Zack Elkins, Lee Klein and company forced the Hornets into the same position on their ensuing possession.

SSC got untracked on their second possession mounting a nine-play drive that resulted in a 25-yard scoring pass from Lance Cuevas to Brennen Thomas with 5:33 left in the first quarter. Bryce Morreale's PAT made the score 7-0. The touchdown was set up by a 14-yard gain by Lee Klein and a total of 41 yards on four carries by Josh Duplessis.

The Rocks put the pressure on the Hornet offense when Mike Deifik and Brenan Gordon threw the Hornets for a loss on their first play of their next drive. Things went down hill for East Central as Brennen Thomas partially blocked a Stanley Byrd punt which gave the Rocks good field position at the Hornet 40 yardline.

It took SSC just two plays to put more lights on the scoreboard when Duplessis scored from 25 yards out with 2:46 left in the opening quarter. Morreale's PAT missed leaving the score at 13-0.

Lee Klein smacked Michael Slater for a 7-yard loss and forced a fumble on the play. Klein cleaned up the loose ball, as well, giving SSC possession at the Hornet 23 yardline.

Cuevas connected with Michael Cure for a 23-yard score with 1:55 left in the first quarter. The Rocks' 2-point conversion attempt missed leaving the score at 19-0. The Rock defense continued to put the Hornet offense in the hole. On the first play of the ensuing drive, Jordan Ellis sacked Adam McQueen for a 10-yard loss. The loss put the Hornets in a hole that they could not climb out of and forced them into a punting situation two plays later.

SSC started their possession at their own 41 yardline. It took the Rocks 8 plays to find the endzone. Duplessis broke free for a 13-yard gain followed by two Hornet penalties for first downs. Cuevas hit Floyd Dedeaux for a 17-yard gain down to the Hornet three yardline.

Cuevas called his own number and scored from nine feet out. Cuevas connected with Stefan Sofianbs for the two-point conversion. With 8:34 left in the first half, SSC led 27-0.

Klein, Ellis and Brett Bentz continued their relentless harassment of the Hornet offense and forced East Central to punt back to the Rocks. On the first play of the Rocks' next drive, Cuevas found Dedeaux for a 68-yard gain down to the Hornet 5 yardline. Two consecutive carries by Klein changed to the scoreboard for SSC when he scored from two yards out with 5:12 remaining in the first half. Morreale's PAT was good making the half-time score of 34-0.

SSC crowned their queen for the homecoming festivities at halftime. Elissa Kergosien, a senior at OLA, was crowned queen from a court of five beautiful young ladies.

East Central opened the second half on offense and had their most productive drive of the night. However, the drive was aided by four first downs from Rock penalties. Following 50 yards in Rock penalties, the Hornets only got to the 13 yardline. Stanley Byrd connected on a 23-yard field goal with 4:57 left in the third quarter to avoid the shutout and make the score 34-3. SSC started their first drive of the second half at their own 20-yardline. Following a nominal gain by Duplessis, Cuevas found Thomas wide open for a 55-yard gain down to the Hornet 5 yardline. The gain was keyed by a devastating downfield block by Michael Cure. On the next play, Cuevas connected with full-back Jordan Ellis for a 5-yard score with 3:47 left in the third quarter. Morreale missed on the PAT leaving the score at 40-3.

Ellis and Klein continued their dominance of the Hornet attack forcing East Central into a passing situation. Zack Elkins intercepted McQueen's pass at the Rock 47 yardline to stall the drive for East Central.

Duplessis needed just one block and he was off to the races for SSC scoring on a 58-yard run with 1:06 left in the third quarter. Morreale's PAT was good making the score 47-3.

Justin Houston pounded the ball against the junior variety defense on the Hornet's next possession. He had 45 yards on six carries including a 6-yard scoring run with 8:52 left in the contest. Byrd connected on the PAT making the score 47-10 and ended the scoring for the game.

The two teams traded possessions for the remainder of the game allowing the junior varsity players to hit the gridiron.

SSC head coach Casey Wittman stated, "We executed very well tonight. I was very pleased at how we balanced our offensive production and with the aggressiveness that our defense showed against a tough East Central team. We have to get back to practice this week and work on getting ready for Vancleave."

Cuevas threw for 196 yards on 7-of-14 passing with three touchdown passes. Duplessis added 154 yards on 11 carries and two touchdowns.

Defensively, the Rocks were led by Jordan Ellis with 16 total tackles and 1 sack, Lee Klein with 14 total tackles and a fumble recovery. Mike Deifik added 9 total tackles in the win.

The Rocks will hit the road east to Jackson County to tangle with the Vancleave Bulldogs. Vancleave defeated D'Iberville on Friday evening. Game time for the Vancleave game will be 7:30pm.

Gators down Pirates 14-3

BY STEVE SMITH
Contributing Writer

Pass High's Pirates held Gautier to two touchdowns Friday night but couldn't penetrate the Gator endzone, losing 14 to 3.

The Pirates played well, giving up only a few big plays and held the Gators to 13 first downs and 102 yards rushing. Turnovers were even as the Pirates lost the ball once by fumble and once by interception, while recovering two Gautier fumbles.

Junior running back Jaren Bowser averaged over 5 yards per carry, gathering 117 yards on 22 rushes, while contributing eight solo tackles on defense.

Jonathan Willis and Chad Moore shared the quarterbacking duties, with Moore being very successful on the option play, pitching to Donovan Fairley or keeping, but the Pirates completed only two passes in six attempts. Gator quarterback Julius Blanks, completed 13 of 19 attempts for 188 yards, giving Gautier the edge in total yards.

The Pirates attempted an onside kick on the opening kickoff, but Gautier covered the ball at their 45-yardline. The Gators soon turned it over, however, and the Pirate offense took the field, but couldn't get rolling. The Gator's offense also stalled on the next try and the Pirate offense gained some momentum on the next attempt, penetrating to the Gator 29-yardline before a false start penalty stalled the drive. Both teams went three and out on their next series, but the Gators gained the advantage in field position and began the next series at the Pirate 46-yardline. Gautier covered the distance to the Pirate endzone in six plays, with Massey scoring from the 2-yardline with 8:28 left in the half. The PAT was good and Gautier led 7 to 0.

The Pirates engineered another drive deep into Gator territory before halftime, reaching the Gautier 24-yardline before being intercepted. The Pirates then gave up a big play as Blanks connected with Massey on a 53-yard pass, with Brandon Riley saving the Pirates a touchdown, grabbing Massey's jersey and hauling him down as time expired.

The Pirates got on the board with field goal late in the third quarter after another nice drive from their own 33-yardline to the Gator 12-yardline, making the score 7 to 3. The Gators fumbled after three plays on their next series and the Pirates mounted a drive that reached the Gator 45-yardline, but a spectacular run by Bowser was nullified by penalty and the Pirates had to punt.

With under five minutes to play and trailing by four, the Pirates gave up a 62-yard run to Gautier's Edwin Miskal that set up Massey's second touchdown and sealed the Pirates fate. The PAT was good and the scoring ended with Gautier ahead, 14 to 3. The Pirates entertain the D'Iberville Warriors for Homecoming next Friday night and face St. Stanislaus on Oct. 8 at the Rock.

Tomcats outrun Tigers 41-20

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

Contributing Writer

Bay High ran into a quick and strong Stone County team that started rolling at the beginning of the second half and kept it going in their 41-20 win over the Tigers at McCullough Stadium in Bay St. Louis on Friday night. The Tomcats scored 34 points in the second half.

Bay High took the early lead and led 13-7 at half-time. The Tigers appeared to have answers every time the Tomcats would make a run at them, including keeping the visitors out of the end zone on their last possession of the first half from inside the Tigers' 5 yardline.

But the Tomcats made a statement on the first play from scrimmage to open the second half with a 69-yard pass play for a touchdown from O'Shea Martin to Jaren Peters to tie the game after the PAT kick failed.

The Tigers fumbled the ball away to the visitors on their next possession, and Stone County capitalized, taking the lead away from the Tigers for the first time in the game as Earvin Moore capped a 41-yard drive with a 14-yard carry for the score.

The Tomcats took a 20-13 lead and never looked back.

"We came out flat and didn't play as well as we've played the past couple of weeks," said a disappointed Tigers coach Brenan Compretta. "They came in here better prepared and beat us in all phases of the game. I've got to take off my hat to their line, their running backs and quarterback."

The key play for the Tomcats came at the 2:23 mark in the third quarter when the Tigers went for it on a fourth-and-10 situation at the visitors' 32 yardline. Tigers' quarterback Corbin Blaize dropped back to pass and threw into coverage as a Stone County defender intercepted and returned 68-plus yards for the score, giving the visitors a 14-point lead.

Defensive lineman Fred Perkinson (75) is the first to slow Stone County Tomcat Schuyler Huff (34) down to a loss. In on the tackle for Bay High were Kyle Moran (5) and Robert Labat (1).

The Tigers never fully recovered. "That was definitely the turning point of the game," Compretta added. "They did a good job of applying pressure."

Down by 14 points, the Tigers had their opportunities to get back in the game. But the Tigers failed to score with four chances from inside the five yardline on their first possession of the fourth quarter. But the Tigers defense was resilient and gave the offense yet another opportunity on the subsequent possession.

Blaize connected with Destin Thomas on a screen pass good for 21 yards to the visitors' 1 yardline. Antonio Hawkins followed blocking for the score to put the Tigers one touchdown behind at 27-20 with 6:15 remaining on the game clock. But that was as close as it got for the Tigers.

Stone County compounded their lead with two fourth quarter touchdown carries by Moore, a 67-yarder and an 18-yard carry.

Hawkins carried on a 3-yard run for the Tigers for the first score of the game. Kyle Moran's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 7-0 lead. Blaize found Lorenzo Lewis past defenders for a 67-yard score to give the Tigers a 13-7 lead at the 9:30 mark of the second period.

On the night, Blaize completed 19 of 32 passes for 238 yards, a touchdown and two interceptions. Hawkins rushed for 96 yards and two touchdowns.

Lewis had 3 receptions for 87 yards and a touchdown; Destin Thomas had five catches for 75 yards. Steven Dauenhauer had 6 catches for 34 yards.

Defensively, Robert Labat led the Tigers with 10 tackles, followed by Kadeem Perkins with nine tackles. Moran, Trevor Adam and Brad Ladner each tallied a sack.

The Tigers travel to Gautier to take on the Gators in their second district game. The loss put the Tigers at 4-1 (1-0, district).

"We've just got to put this one behind us," said Compretta. "Thankfully this was a non-district game. Hopefully our guys will get fired up for next week."

Hawks fall to Bulldogs 42-9

BY DWAYNE BREMER

Contributing Writer

The Hancock Hawks lost to the Brandon Bulldogs 42-9 Friday night in Kiln.

The Bulldogs were paced by a strong running attack that saw junior Avrey Purvis rack up 138 yards and Senior Jeremy Horton tally 90 yards on the evening.

The Hawks played with plenty of emotion and heart, but the final score was once again a lop-sided affair. For the second consecutive game, the Hawks rushed for over 200 yards, and they showed some improvement in special teams.

Taking advantage of excellent blocking, Anthony Guidry took the opening kickoff and busted up the middle for a 71-yard return. The Hawks got a quick strike from Braxton Necaize to Chase Mciver for an eight-yard pick up, and two plays later Justin Ratcliff booted a 28-yard field goal. The score gave the Hawks their first lead of the season at 3-0.

The Bulldogs struck quickly to take the lead as Horton took off on a 51-yard touchdown gallop on the Bulldogs first series. Tucker Hodge added the point-after, and with 9:26 to play in the first quarter, the Bulldogs led 7-3.

The Bulldogs were turned away the next three times by the Hawks defense.

Brently Necaize stopped behind the line twice, and Jonathan Lacoste made a big hit on a fourth down play to stop a Bulldog drive.

The Bulldogs reached the endzone once again in the second quarter. After a tipped punt gave the Bulldogs excellent field position, Purvis made a nice 30-yard scoring run. The extra point gave the Bulldogs a 14-3 lead with 6:28 to play in the quarter.

Disaster then struck for the Hawks as Braxton Necaize was intercepted by Morgan Coleman. Coleman then took the pick 24-yards for a Bulldogs touchdown. The extra point gave the Bulldogs a 21-3 lead.

The Bulldogs scored again with 1:21 to play in the first half when Purvis scored again from 29-yards out. The Bulldogs led 28-3 at the half.

The Bulldogs put the game away with a 13-play drive to open the second half.

Coleman capped off the drive with a twelve-yard run, and with 5:39 to play in the third the Bulldogs led 35-3.

The Bulldogs added their final score early in the fourth, as Patrick Hall connected with Cartez Scott for a 12-yard pass and catch touchdown. The point after was good, and the score was 42-3.

On the first play after the Bulldog score, Mark Fairly ran through a big hole, and took off on a 80-yard touchdown rumble. The offensive line of Scott Nesón, Travis Hall, Kalan Cuevas, Colin Miller, and Russell Tanguis did an excellent job on the play leading the way for Fairley's run.

The point after failed, and the score was 42-9.

The Hawks defense then played well to get the ball back for the Hawks. Corey O'Rear made three tackles in a row, and on fourth down Purvis was thrown for a four-yard loss by Jonathan Lacoste, E.J. Jarvis and Kevin Lafontaine.

The Hawks defense held firm again in the fourth quarter when Alex Toups sacked Hall for a nine-yard loss.

The Hawks mounted a drive in the closing minutes of the game to get the ball inside the Bulldog 20. Chris Jochum had four runs for 27 yards, and Paul Verdin had a nice, 15-yard run. The Hawks could not punch in the score before the game ended, and the final score was 42-9.

"We are doing some things better, and I don't think any of our young guys can say they are freshman or sophomores any more. These kids have been working so hard, and good things will come eventually," Esslinger said.

The Hawks were led by the running of Fairley who tallied 128 yards on the night. Ronnie Thomas chipped in with 20 yards. On defense, freshman line-backer Brently Necaize played a great game recording nine tackles.

Lacoste had seven stops, and O'Rear had six tackles.

The Hawks will be back home next week at Brett Favre Field to play the Oak Grove Warriors.

You've got company; we don't want any

The problem with having company is that you have to prepare for their visit. Sometimes this is not just being polite, it's a necessity. Our latest visitor, Ivan, is a good example. Once we were positive he was coming, Stella and I went into a routine that we've perfected in the thirty years we've lived here.

The only glitch came when I was boarding up one of the windows and found I had used it's plywood on a house project last summer. However, a neighbor had some extra plywood and by evening, Stella and I were ready.

The next morning we had nothing to do except watch Ivan's approach on television and decide whether to stay or "head for Texas." Ivan had suggested he might visit Louisiana and was definitely intending to drop in on the folks in northern Mississippi, Tennessee, and Georgia. So if we did leave, we would have to cut across Louisiana and go west to Texas.

Well, we decided not to go and sat through the long day watching Ivan's progress. Stella was nervous and, as the day wore on, began talking about Texas more and more. That night Ivan came, a phantom ogre seen and heard dimly in the dark hours of the morning, smashing things horribly in our neighbor states of Alabama and Florida, but leaving us in Mississippi relatively unscathed.

Yesterday we cleaned up a comparatively small mess of branches and leaves. Today we've worked at returning the outside things to where they were before Ivan. Surprisingly, putting things back has taken longer and has been more exhausting than when we put them up. Both Stella and I feel terribly drained.

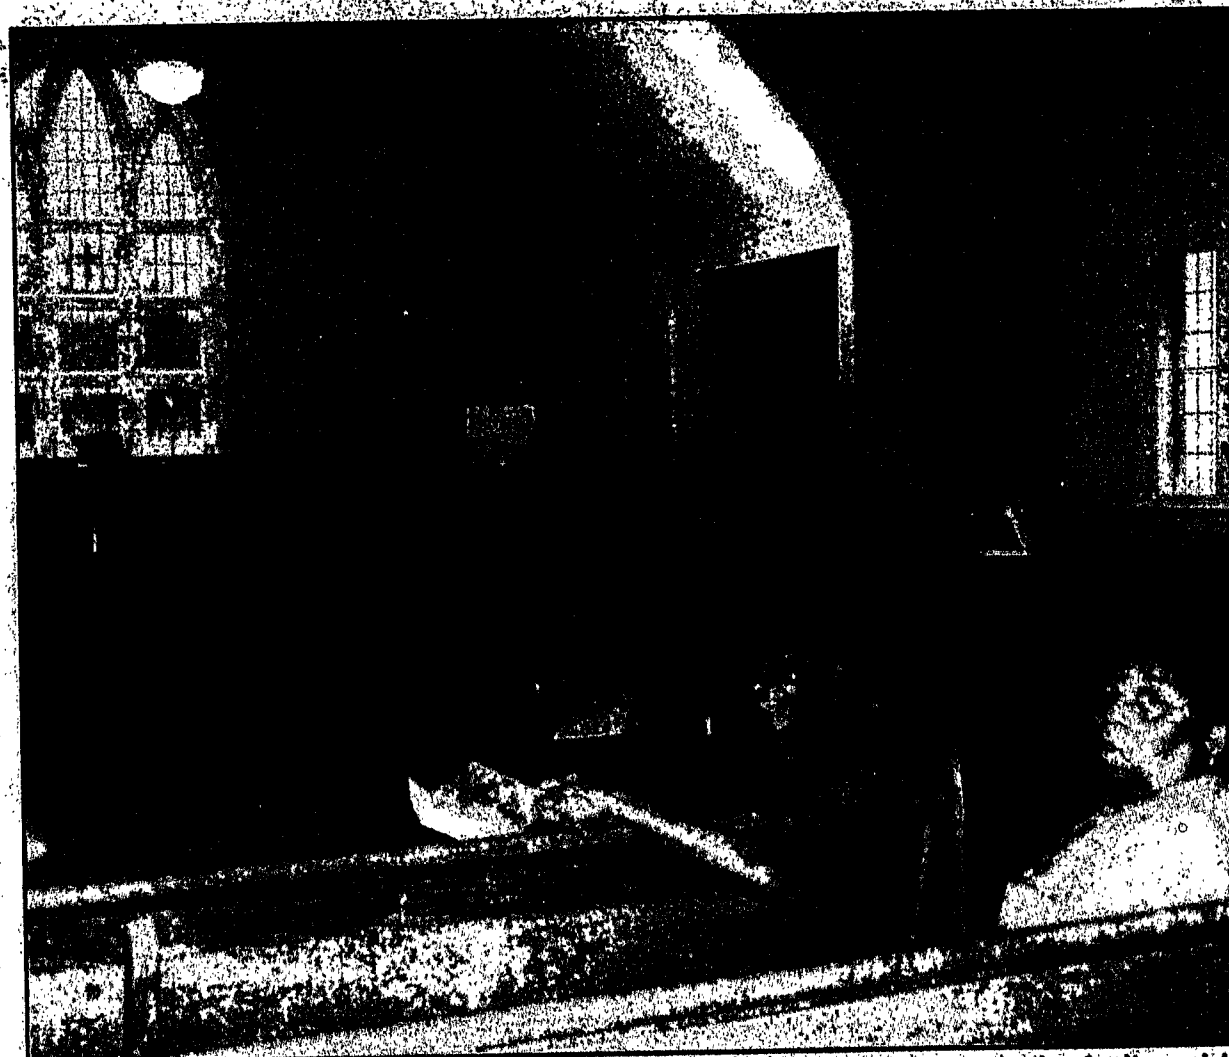

I'm on the front porch, relaxing for a few moments and thinking how Ivan's visit here was more emotional than physical. We've had other storms in our thirty years that were more physically destructive.

In 1880, fifteen years after the Negro was freed from slavery, says the church history of Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church, a group of young African American women from Bay St. Louis felt the importance of providing their people with leadership, and religious and educational training. Their drive and determination resulted in the foundation of the congregation of the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal Church which met in a small building on Washington St. The congregation grew so fast that by 1882 they were able to build a church on Good Children's St, now Sycamore St. Today at 3 p.m. at 248 Sycamore St. in Bay St. Louis the congregation of St.

Blue Light Special: Waveland Police Dept., Kmart team up to make a merry Christmas for children

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

This Christmas season Waveland police officers want to see 100 happy children running through Kmart. This will be the fifth year that the department has sponsored the "Shop With A Cop" event for local children. The event pairs police officers with kids for a holiday shopping spree.

Like last year, Sgt. Brent Anderson will be organizing a fundraiser, The Second Annual Charity Golf Tournament, at The Oaks golf club in Pass Christian. This year the event will be held on Friday, November 19.

Last year's event was so successful that it enabled 68 children, who may not have had much of a Christmas, to shop for themselves and family members.

It is a far cry from the ten children the officers were able to sponsor in the first year of the event. That year, money came mostly from the officers own pockets and a few generous community members.

Anderson hopes that between the tournament and the continued generous donations from both individuals and businesses, that 100 children will be shopping this year. Officers in the department volunteer to shop with the kids the weekend before Christmas.

Teams or individuals may sign up for the tournament by calling either Anderson or Capt. Mike Prendergast at the Waveland Police Department at 228-467-

Prices for the event are $250 for each team of four. If you don't play golf you can sponsor a hole for $100 or a team and a hole for $350. Registration costs will include a golf cart and fees, food, door prizes, awards and all drinks.

Donations of any amount will be greatly appreciated and all donations and all profits from the event will go to benefit the "Shop With A Cop Program." Donations of door prizes are also encouraged.

Southern Miss student wins Statewide Accounting Award

THE SEA COAST ECHO
A senior accounting major at The University of Southern Mississippi has been named the recipient of the state's top honor from the Mississippi Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Julie Michelle Keen of Picayune, the daughter of Tommy and Jan Keen, is a member of Beta Alpha Psi, an accounting honor society, and is the vice president of membership for her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta. Keen currently works at Hancock Bank and is an accounting clerk for Gray Co. Systems.

"I am very honored to receive this award; it is truly a blessing. It is so encouraging to have organizations like the MSCPA that are gracious enough to help support my academic endeavors. I look forward to the opportunity to support students through scholarships as this organization has done for me," Keen said.

The award process begins when university scholarship committees throughout the state choose one representative of either junior or senior standing in the field of accounting who exhibits academic excellence. He or she is guaranteed a $1,000 scholarship. The state committees then review all candidates, and one is awarded the MSCPA Hamp King Award and an additional $1,000. "It is a distinct honor for a scholarship winner to earn the designation as the Hamp King Award winner. Each year, scholarship applications from accounting students across the state are reviewed by the MSCPA awards, education and scholarships committee and only one applicant, based on academic achievement and campus involvement, earns this designation," said Jack Coppenbarger, MSCPA executive director.

Keen will be honored by the MSCPA in a ceremony on Nov. 5 at the Hilton Hotel in Jackson. Stan Clark, professor of accounting, said this award will bring both Keen and The University of Southern Mississippi recognition.

"Julie is a very strong student with a good attention to detail, which is critical to accounting. Classroom performance has shown her to be a top-notch student. She has proven Southern Miss graduates can compete at the highest of levels," said Clark.

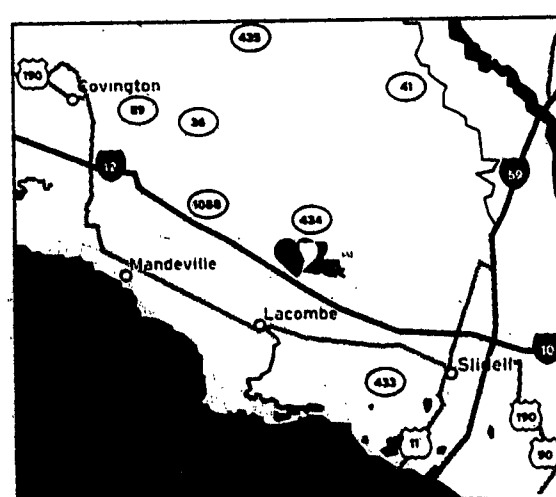

The MSCPA is an active professional organization of over 2,600 certified public accountants working together to improve the profession and better serve the public.

The bride is the daughter of Ralph and Joan Dagnall of Bay St. Louis, MS.

The groom's parents are Patrick and Martha Cleveland of Decatur, MS.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the occasion she selected a white silk gown, fitted, strapless dropped waist, a-line skirt with a detachable cathedral length train; embellished with silver beaded embroidery on the bodice, hem and train of gown; a finger-tip veil held in place by a rhinestone tiara headpiece. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and freesia.

Matron of honor was Marian Necaise. Bridesmaids included Lisa Garrett, maid of honor; Georgiana Dagnall and Jennifer Dagnall, both sisters of the bride and Amy Denism.

Best man was Patrick Cleveland, father of the groom.

Groomsmen were Scott May, Dr. Woody Beachum, David Freeman and Patrick Pinter.

A reception followed the wedding at Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Acadian Grill in Waveland, MS.

A bridal shower was given by Marian Necaise and Lisa Garrett at the Court Street Station in Bay St. Louis on Sunday, March 28, 2004. Also, a bridal shower was given by friends and co-workers at Mississippi Power Company at Mississippi Power Company in Gulfport Monday, April 19, 2004.

A bridal tea was given by family and friends at Forest United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in Forest, MS, on Sunday, March 21, 2004.

After a honeymoon cruise to the southern Caribbean, the couple will reside in Bay St. Louis, MS.

Church -- 122 years

Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, now Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church, will celebrate their 122nd year with a homecoming celebration. The theme this year will be "Our Family, The Church Family," centering on the idea put forth by Larry W. Snyder, Jr. when he said, "What unites us as believers is far more important than what separates us."

Guest speaker Rev. Delbert Hall from the Pilgrim Bound Baptist Church in Picayune will be introduced by present pastor Rev. Bobby McGill. Willie Bradley will act as Master of Ceremonies, with prelude by Lunita Wallace, welcome by Mamie Drummond, scripture by Candice Payne, and prayer by Arthur Clemetin. Music will be by the Valena C. Jones Choirs, the Holmes Chapel Choir from Pearlinton and the Pilgrim Bound Choirs. A duet will be sung by Marian Davis and Maurice Gary.

The original church made way for the present day church, located just a little ways from the original, about half a block, in 1926, on a more spacious parcel of property purchased from Joe Rosetta and the Reed family. The new church building was dedicated to the memory of Bay St. Louis educator, and wife of Bishop Robert E. Jones, Valena Cecelia McCarthy Jones.

The design for the new church was done by Joseph Labat and featured an elaborate support system that has seen the church through many hurricanes. Windows were filled with a yellow stained glass, some of which has been replaced from breakage over the years. Oak pews were purchased in 1953. A fellowship hall was added in 1985.

For many of the congregation, the church, and its activities, is the center of their lives. In this way, the history of the church is the history of the community. For church historian

Marian Davis, whose grandparents were original founding members; and for Mamie Drummond, who came to the church at the age of two from Pearlinton; and for Gloria Payne, who was drawn to the Methodist faith at the age of 18 yrs., the church represents a lifetime of spiritual growth and service and of course, many memories of a passing way of life, when life revolved almost exclusively around family, church and school.

"My life period was church and school," said Payne. "Our social life revolved around the church." Payne came to VCJ when a school friend (Drummond's sister) brought her to the services.

"When we were little the church was packed on Sunday for both services," Davis said of a time when there was, Sunday school, followed by two Sunday services followed by evening fellowship, week day Bible study and a midweek service as well. "We spent all day in church. Many parents did not allow their children to do anything on Sunday but go to church, none of this movies or other things."

"Sunday school was well attended with a, I get to meet my friends, type attitude," said Drummond. "If we were given a dime for collection, we could save some for a candy at the corner grocery after church." Friends met to walk to the church together, stopping to talk along the way. The streets were filled with people walking to church.

The youth fellowship was the center of the social activities. They met at the church and each summer the young people would attend camp at the Gulfside Methodist Assembly on the beach. Everyone attended the annual picnic there.

To pay off the church mortgage, the older ladies would sell chicken and fish dinners. Another way to raise funds was to sell peanuts and sandwiches to the troops on the trains passing through during war time. "I remember when they burned the mortgage for the church after services one Sunday," said Davis. "I was little. They put it in a bowl and burned it outside on the side of the building."

There were many activities held on the church grounds. Paul Fairconetue held the Heaven and Hell Affair. Games were played and the winner got to eat Heaven's food and if you lost you had to eat Hell's food. Many of the men were good cooks. Charlie Givens wore a chef's hat and attire for the occasion. Arthalia Daniels' Hall held the Sock and Apron Rally and fundraiser.

A fair was held on the church grounds each year to raise funds. Barbecue was cooked in a hole in the ground and served with homemade sauce, potato salad, and rootbeer. There were grab bags, spin the wheel for food items, and crocheted and other homemade items. The fairs ended in about 1949 the ladies say.

"The church was cool and airy in the summer with lots of windows to open and cold cold in the winter," said Drummond. "The church was heated with a large wood heater in the pulpit and we kept our coats on and huddled together to stay warm. Sunday school was held around the heater."

All the women remember Joe Smith, who worked and lived at Dr. Smith's place. Joe would come to the church in the early morning, they say, and light the fires in the wood stove. He would also ring the bells and wait on the front steps to greet the parishioners. Helen Holmes played the pump organ, and had very slender legs, Drummond remembers, likely from all that work. When the church got a new piano Clara Fairconetue and Drummond dismantled the organ and threw it out, something she deeply regrets doing, she said.

Ladies of the church joined with those of other churches to form the Sheltering Rock. Members of the group took turns sitting with the sick and dying and helping the families of those people, much in the tradition of hospice workers today.

Weddings were a festive affair. The talk of the town involved a wedding in which Edith Holmes married John James, whose family were devout Catholics, in the name of love, Drummond remembers. Communion wafers were baked on Saturday and prepared at dawn on Sunday for the communion ceremony. The practice ended in the 1950's when supplies were purchased.

Stories of spirits in the church abound, one remembered, involves church organist Ezerine Bibbs. Bibbs arrived on Saturday to practice for the service and while doing so said she felt a warm breath on her neck as she played. Bibbs quietly closed the organ and left the souls to rest in peace.

The congregation invites everyone to attend today's festivities.

NOTICE OF A FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for financial assistance from Standard Dedaux Water Association. The proposed project consists of approximately 50 miles of 4-inch through 8-inch PVC water mains which will serve an estimated 600 households. The water supply will come from a 600 gpm water well and a 150,000 gallon elevated storage tank.

As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utility Service has assessed the potential effects of the proposed project and has determined that the proposal will not have a significant effect on the human environment and for which an Environmental Impact Statement will not be prepared. The basis of this determination is documented within the Environmental Assessment.

The Environmental Assessment can be reviewed at the Rural Development Area Office located at 113 Fairfield Drive, Hattiesburg, Mississippi. For further information, please contact Robert W. Windham, Area Specialist, at 601-261-3293.

Elena was one. When Elena came to visit, we had an old friend of Stella as a houseguest.

Elena's visit was unexpected. We were not told of the storm's coming until late afternoon accompanied by the fact that it would be with us early the next morning and stay the day. We scrambled, doing most of our preparations in the dark. The last window to be boarded was a large attic window. It required that Stella hand up the plywood to me on a ladder with the houseguest shining the flashlight for us to see what we were doing.

Standing at the top of the 18, ladder, I found Stella below me handing me the heavy plywood in the dark, the light from the flashlight abruptly gone.

"Where's Betty?"

"She had to go inside."

"Couldn't she wait?"

"No. She left me the flashlight. I'll hold the bottom of the board while you nail it in. I'll try to shine the light so you can see."

It was more than a bit of work, but we finally got it up and went inside. We found Betty watching television.

"Hey, did you guys get it up? Great! I had to come in and see 'Dallas.' I never miss an episode. This one's really good."

Then after a terrible prolonged visit, Elena was gone. Things were a mess. We had power off, four trees down, a chimney smashed and branches and debris everywhere. At eleven o'clock the morning after the storm's passage, as I was running the mower to grind up some of the debris I saw our guest, still in her housecoat, step out on the porch with a cup of coffee in her hand. She called to Stella who was pulling branches to the side of the road. Stella stopped and talked to her for a moment then, when our guest went back inside, she began dragging another limb. I drove the mower over to her.

"What was that about?"

"She wanted to know if I knew that the power was still out. She said that she had to make her instant coffee with hot tap water."

"Than we still have hot water?"

"Not any more. She used it all taking a shower."

I guess I had better stop remembering things from other years and go take care of the visitor we just had. Stella is calling for me to come around the back. The city men are picking up the broken branches and mess up the street. Tired though we are, we need to hustle to get the last of our debris out by the road to get it picked up. With that bit of the storm's memory is gone, we'll be back to where we were last Tuesday, a sort of time travel in reverse.

To tell you the truth, in a way I don't mind Ivan's visit. Or at least the way he conducted his visit with us here. You don't often get a chance to say you were that close to a passing bullet. No, in Ivan's case better make that close to a cannonball.

Open Call for film 'Dreamer'

It has been announced that major motion picture currently entitled "Dreamer" starring Kurt Russell, Elizabeth Shue, and Kris Kristofferson will be holding an open call for extras Saturday, October 2, 2004, in the Castine Center at Pelican Park in Mandeville, LA from 10 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Casting Director, Shirley F. Crumley says they will be looking for people from all ethnicities from age 10 through 80 to portray townspeople, members of the international horse community and horse racing fans throughout the filming. This is not an audition, it is a call for extras only. If you are interested in participating, please bring a recent, non-returnable photo and attend the open call.

"Dreamer, is the story of how a family gives a thoroughbred horse a second chance to race and how that horse brings the family together. The S.K.G. production also stars Dakota Fanning, Freddy Rodriguez and Luis Guzman and is written and directed by John Gatins. Filming begins in Louisiana's St. Tammany Parish and the New Orleans Area in October, 2004.

The Castine Center @ Pelican Park is located at 63350 Pelican Dr. on LA Hwy 190 East past the junction of LA Hwy 59. From Interstate 12, take exit #65, turn on to LA Hwy 59 toward Mandeville. At the junction of 59 & 190, turn left on 190 East and Pelican Park is approximately 2 miles on the left.

Master Gardner Annual Plant Sale

The public is invited to the Master Gardener's Annual Plant Sale on Saturday, October 2, from 6 a.m. - 12 noon to be held at the Farmer's Market located just behind the Hancock County Civic Center. According to Joe Reine, Hancock County Master Gardner President, "We are or should have magnolia trees, annuals, perennials, tropicals and native plants for the sale."

Master Gardeners are dedicated to enhancing and beautifying our community. The Master Gardeners do community service projects such as landscaping and maintaining medians and other public places such as the library and civic center. The Master Gardeners grow their own plants to sell as a non-profit fundraiser. The proceeds are used to fund and maintain their current landscape projects in the community; therefore, your contributions toward the purchase of these plants, will directly benefit your community.

In addition to these service projects, the Master Gardeners are very instrumental in educating the public regarding horticultural issues. When you come to the plant sale, bring your unidentifiable woods or plants and home and lawn questions. If they cannot answer your question at that time, just leave your contact information for them to get back with you. Also, the Master Gardeners have a hotline to call for your future horticultural questions 228-865-4483 or 1-866-GARDEN-8 (427-3368).

Patch the Wall

For many years, the church that we attend had a small leak in the slate roof; and this would allow water to run down inside one of the walls and cause plaster in one particular area to discolor and break away. And although there were numerous attempts to repair the leak and plaster over the damaged area, the leak would reappear and the discoloration and damaged plaster would return within a few months after each failed attempt. Every time I went to church and saw the damaged wall, I wondered, do we discolor and destroy our soul like this wall when we sin? When we show repentance, and ask God's forgiveness for our sinfulness, we make amends with our Creator and our soul is repaired again. However, usually within a short period of time, the discoloration and breaking down of our soul begins, because although we may repent, we do not always make a strong enough effort to further refrain from our transgressions. Our pastor, being a tenacious man, finally saw to it that the roof was repaired properly, and the wall has remained clean now for nearly a year. Similarly, we should be just as tenacious about refraining from sin that is harmful to our soul.

He restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
R.S.V. Psalm 23:3

Are you a wiser worldling or believer?

Mike Sparks, the radio talk show host, had come to Port Charlotte, Florida with 100 generators available to anyone who would plunk down $900. The going retail price for a generator, we were told, was $700 to $800. Supposing he got a good discount for buying 100 generators, Sparks stood to realize $300 or so for each hurricane sale.

Reflections on Life
by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

But a later report revealed that Mike Sparks was actually selling the generators for more than $1000 apiece. On a scale indicating gouging, that $1000 figure changes the equation considerably. So did a near 40 percent markup take it to the level of gouging?

Was the relief and luxury of air conditioning, the ability to manufacture ice and refrigerate products, and the added luxury of full accessibility to radio and TV worth that quick hit of a $1000 investment amid the hard times of destruction and loss?

John Eller, investigator for the attorney general's office, considered it gouging. Even while he pondered whether Sparks was gouging, Eller ordered Sparks and his out-of-state company, Silver Dollar Sales, to leave town, because it was all too obvious that they were taking advantage of the severely strapped inhabitants of the Florida Panhandle.

Oddly, Jesus would have praised the initiative of the hard-charging Mike Sparks, just as he praised the business savvy of the dishonest steward who had squandered much of his boss' property. While berating the steward's shoddy morality in cooking his master's books, Jesus commended his alert initiative, as we read in the parable in Luke 16. Then, continuing, Jesus observed: "The children of this world have more initiative in dealing with their own generation than do the children of light."

Rather quizzically, Jesus went on: "I tell you, make friends for yourselves with dishonest wealth, so that when it fails, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings."

Hurricane Ivan the Terrible killed scores of people and wreaked billions of dollars of damage over a killer swath more than 1000 miles long. Adding insult to injury, a strong cold front knocked Ivan down from the North back to the South still as a rain system, threatening to cross Florida again into the Gulf and possibly regenerate as a storm.

Thus, the stage was set for the galling scenario of gouging and general getting over on storm victims which was reenacted throughout the length and breadth of destruction left in the monster storm's train. This poses a compelling question for believers.

Coming off the mysterious, intriguing observations of Jesus about the case of the crooked steward, we believers have to ask ourselves whether we are outstripped by the intensity and ingenuity of initiatives displayed by the worldly in their pursuit of riches.

Do we believers in any way measure up to worldly initiative when we compare our Godly initiative vis-à-vis those whom Jesus calls the children of light: our sisters and brothers in the faith? Do we demonstrate the same drive, motivation, imagination and willingness to labor as tirelessly as do the purveyors of worldly goods?

When it comes to worldly initiatives, to getting things done in order to reel in money and possessions, to expending time, energy and talent in the pursuit of earthly gain, the salespersons of material philosophy and the merchants of greed hardly have peers.

Just as Jesus said, we believers, the children of light, do relatively little to let our light shine before the world (Matthew 5), almost as if we are apologizing to the world and excusing ourselves for being reluctant believers in God's word.

For their part, the children of this world make no apologies or excuses for their avowed goals, motivation, drive, energy and flat-out dedication to the accumulation of worldly goods. Their whole preoccupation in life is centered around fleshly, earthly values, monies, advantages and various opportunities to acquire and increase them.

Back to hurricane aftermaths, we find thousands of documented cases of price gouging and a handful of get-over scams. Of their very nature, they tend to stand out more than the Good Samaritan cases. For instance, the man in New Orleans who sold gas at $10 a gallon got much more publicity than people who were assisting others in distress.

Disasters like hurricanes expose the dark side of get-over merchants who operate best in situations where their clients are at an extreme disadvantage. Those merchants are just a step removed from looters whose specialty is to scavenge the absent, maimed or dead.

If you are old enough, you surely remember the great blackout of July 13, 1977 which plunged the city of New York into inky darkness. This was a textbook case of thousands of looters shielded by darkness and the refusal of 10,000 policemen to come to work.

Whether the setting is a blackout or the swath of a hurricane, the children of this world operate under the cover of darkness and paralyzing destruction. Without shame or any inhibition, they plunder the belongings of the helpless. Somehow, they manage to fulfill the words of Jesus, characterizing their initiative, imagination and willingness to hustle.

So what did Jesus mean when he admonished us: "Make friends for yourselves with dishonest wealth, so that when it fails, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings?"

Dishonest wealth is a modern translation of the Aramaic "mammon of iniquity" which means "that in which one trusts." Evidently, Jesus is telling us to establish a peaceful coexistence between mammon, a necessary evil, and ourselves. However, a peaceful coexistence does not entail immersing ourselves in the frenzy of worldly values and enterprises. Rather, it implies that we believers resolve to equal and exceed all the efforts of the worldly in our own pursuit of the Godly and the eternal.

Scripture Says...

Christianity

Surprising to many there is a spiritual war going on right now in the middle east.

The door to some countries in that region are beginning to open. Christianity is waiting to enter there.

The light of the gospel of Christ would bring hope and peace to those people who are sitting in darkness.

The arch enemy of God will try to stop this taking of his territory. His methods are well known. Violence, hate, murder, unrest is his trademark. This vicious taskmaster enjoys keeping people in bondage.

God's word tells us much about his enemy of God and how to defeat his attempt to rule over people and nations.

Eph. 6:12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places...

So what does the church do about fighting against this evilness?

II Cor. 10:4 For weapons of our warfare are not carnal but, mighty through the pulling down of strong holds...

If the church's of America would have a 24 hour prayer chain; the results would be overwhelming. Prayer changes things.

Reader, why not ask your pastor to start a prayer chain in your church? Call believers that are known in other towns to encourage their pastor to do the same.

Shall we wait till the terrorist ride down Main Street?

The gospel has come to you

Two thousand year ago Jesus Christ, the eternal Son of God, was crucified and buried. He was also raised again from the grave of death. Christ then commanded His followers to proclaim the good news of His resurrection to people everywhere. He said, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation" (Mark 16:15). In other words, the followers of Christ were commanded to spread the news of the risen, living Savior. So it is today. God uses men and women to carry this same good news to others. It is the good news, the gift of eternal life, which is obtained through repentance of sin and faith in Jesus Christ. If you hear the message of Jesus Christ, it is because God sent it to you. This is the amazing truth. The almighty God, creator of the universe, sends the message of Christ's death and resurrection to you and to me. You see, you do not first reach out to God. God reaches out to you. As I John 4:19 says, "We love because He first loved us." God takes the initiative. He took the initiative when He sent His Son to die on the cross and rise again. He takes the initiative now in using His followers to bring the message of Christ to you and your neighbors. Of course, this is an expression of God's love. One of the most familiar verses in the Bible tells us this. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life" (John 3:16). Oh dear friend, don't reject this good news of God's love coming to you. Listen to His Son who says, "Repent and believe the gospel" (Mark 1:15).

Tobacco still 'Expelled' from public school campuses in MS

The school year is in full swing for public schools across the state. Campuses are abuzz with students, teachers and administrators. Textbooks, backpacks and the full complement of school supplies are in plain view at every turn. Again this year, however, one thing you won't see on public school campuses is tobacco.

During 2000, state lawmakers passed the Mississippi Adult Tobacco Use on Educational Property Act - a law mandating that all public school campuses in Mississippi be "tobacco-free zones." The Partnership for a Healthy Mississippi's teen advocacy program, Frontline, was instrumental in the passage of this landmark legislation. Through an orchestrated initiative they called "Lobbypalooza," Frontline members by the hundreds stormed the state capitol with one clear and unified message: "Put an end to smoking and the use of tobacco-related products of any kind on public school campuses, now."

Frontline used an integrated communications approach ignited by a news conference on the Capitol steps. The message was sustained through one-on-one meetings with key elected officials and the distribution of written information clearly defining the group's objective and spelling out their side of the debate. Their message was received loud and clear as the "tobacco-free zone" legislation passed with flying colors by an overwhelming margin.

The law prohibits the use of tobacco products (cigarettes, cigars, pipes, snuff, smoking tobacco and smokeless tobacco) by an adult (teacher, administrator and any other person at least 18 years old) on any educational property. This applies to all adults on school property, which includes fans attending football games for high school, junior high or elementary schools. The law defines educational property as any public school building or bus, public school campus, grounds, recreational area, athletic field, or other property owned, used or operated by the local school board.

Penalties for violating this law range from $75 to $150 civil judgments depending on whether the violator is a repeat offender.

Four years since its enactment, the law is as strong as ever - as its impact has made a profound contribution to the success of The Partnership in reducing smoking rates among Mississippi school children.

"It was critical that this legislation be passed - not only for the well-being of our children, but our adult school representatives as well," said Gloria Ncaise. "Temptations are omnipresent these days, but children are most vulnerable, when directly subjected to a negative behavior among peers. Removing the behavior altogether reduces the temptations and makes it considerably easier for them to make the right choices." Ncaise said adults, particularly those in authoritative roles, can have a tremendous influence on the decisions children make. "When children see an adult at their school using tobacco, whether it's a teacher, headmaster or coach, it fosters the notion that it must be OK to smoke."

Ncaise said, PATH - The Partnership for a Healthy Hancock and Pearl River makes available posters and other signage declaring public school campuses across the state "tobacco-free" zones. Any school representative interested in obtaining them materials should call Gloria Ncaise at (228) 586-2590 or contact representatives from: The Partnership for a Healthy Mississippi directly in Jackson, Miss., at 800-PHM-5437.

Clint Black performs at Bay Magic

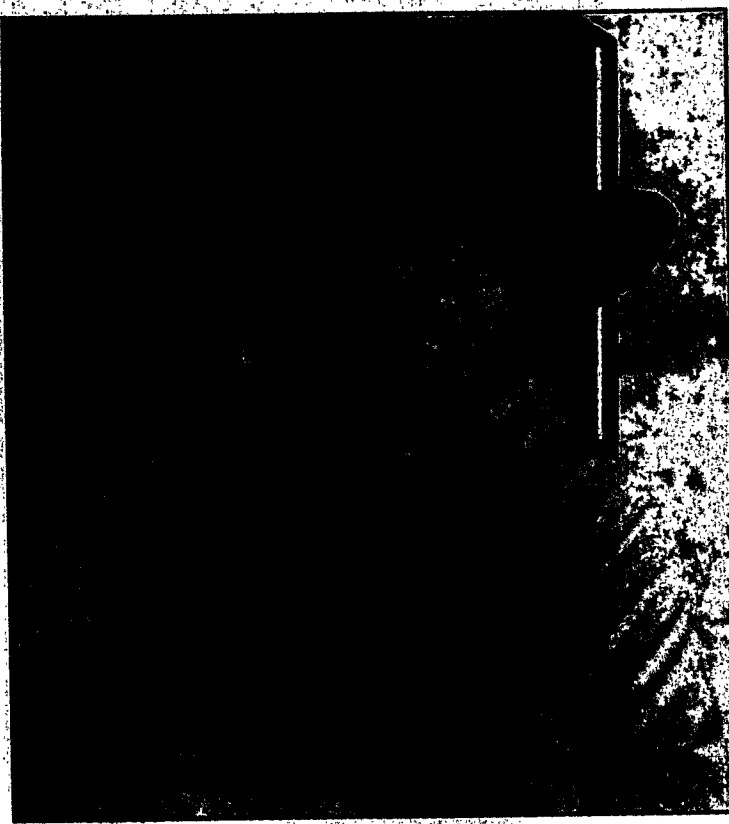

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis proudly presents two-time Grammy Award winner, Clint Black, Friday and Saturday, October 15 & 16 at 9 p.m. in the casino's entertainment complex. Tickets for these two phenomenal concerts start at $49.95 and are available through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet. Premium seats are also available on the first few rows.

Clint Black's latest album, Spend My Time, is just the latest chapter in his musically significant body of work. The youngest of four brothers and a self-described country boy, Black was raised on the outskirts of Houston.

"We ran out of our neighborhood down to the bayou, hunting snakes and fishing with our hands," he says. "We were Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer." The family was also drawn to country music and Clint picked up both the harmonica and guitar as a teenager.

Before long he was performing solo on the club circuit, working his way into the music industry's attention. His 1989 RCA debut Killin' Time opened a decade of furious creativity and success, both for Black and the genre. At the time, Black's arrival was the most rapid ascension to stardom country had ever seen. A decade later, with D'lectrified, he moved from co-producing to become sole producer of his albums.

In addition to music,

Black made his acting debut on TV's Wings and also made an appearance with Mel Gibson, James Garner and Jodie Foster in the movie, Maverick. In 1991, he wed actress and fellow Texan, Lisa Hartman.

Black, 42, has evolved in many ways into a fully formed music maker with hits that include: "A Better Man," "Killin' Time," "A Bad Goodbye," "When I Said I Do," "Like the Rain," "Good Run of Bad Luck," "Put Yourself in My Shoes," "When My Ship Comes In," and many more. His most prestigious awards include: three Country Music Association awards, five Academy of Country Music awards and a TNN Music Award. In 2001, Black was recognized for his charity work when he was named St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Celebrity of the Year.

Don't miss Clint Black at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, October 15 & 16! Must be 21 to attend.

'Complete Savages' take over ABC Friday

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

There's a reason why actor-director Mel Gibson and comedy writers Mike Scully and Julie Thacker-Scully are teamed on the ABC comedy "Complete Savages," which premiered Friday, Sept. 24, but it's not through the usual Hollywood process.

"We've known Mel for about eight years," Thacker-Scully says. "We did a school project together."

"Science-fair things mostly," Scully says. "We built a volcano."

"We always completed our half ... Mel?" his wife chimes in. "We've been looking for a project to do together for a while. We both have large broods of children, and we thought this was custom-made for us. So Mel is, like, riding our coattails."

"Complete Strangers" stars Keith Carradine - most recently seen as the doomed Wild Bill Hickok on HBO's salty Western "Deadwood" - as Nick Savage, a firefighter raising five teenage boys on his own (the wife's not dead, just elsewhere). Playing the sons are Andrew Eiden, Shaun Sipos, Erik von Detten, Evan Ellingson and Jason Dolley; Vincent Ventresca plays Nick's firefighter brother, Jimmy.

Gibson has seven children (six boys, one girl) and the Scullys have five daughters, ranging from 14-21, but making the show about an all-girl family was never a consideration.

"There's nothing funny about raising five girls," Thacker-Scully says.

And it's not like Gibson is skating on his movie-star rep. He directed the pilot and continues to have input.

"The week we were shooting the pilot," Scully says, "he was in the writers' room every night pitching jokes."

For Carradine, dealing with 21st-century teens is not that different from wrestling 19th-century outlaws, except for the language. But that may change.

"I've tried throughout the course of my career," Carradine says, "to do what people expect of me. So having played Hickok, I figured people would expect me to do this."

"He's going to be swearing a lot more on this show," Scully adds. "We're changing the F in TGIF."

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James
Zap2it

Sept. 26 through Oct. 2, 2004
Aries (March 21 - April 20)

You'll be a social butterfly, and you might even plan a trip with some friends. Some time away will do everyone good.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

It might be tempting to burn off some of that cash, but save it for a rainy day. You've got an expense coming down the road.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

People will be hitting you up for advice, and you'll be dishing it out. Just make sure it's sound because they'll hold you to it.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

Keeping your mouth shut is the best way to go at this time - there's not much benefit you can add by speaking up.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Talking before rushing headfirst into action will get you further in life, Leo. This will be a lesson in your life right now.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Communication on the job increases, making it easier to get a project done. Listening is as important as speaking up.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

A confining situation may be resolved with the help of a friend. You may feel a need to bring balance to the people around you.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Talk about traveling to a distant place has you itching to go there. Save up some cash and work toward a ticket.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Travel might take your mind off everything that's been going on recently. A short getaway could be just the ticket.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

A minor health matter needs your attention, so schedule that doctor's appointment. It's time you took this one seriously.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Cleaning up the pieces after a major breakdown at home begins with honest communication. Start here first.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Taking some time away from your home to travel might be a good idea. A few days away could do you some good.

"NASCAR Racing" Sunday, Sept. 26 (TNT, 1 p.m. ET): NASCAR's Nextel Cup series makes its second trip of the season to Dover International Speedway, which is also the site for the second race in the Cup-concluding "Chase for the Championship." Jimmie Johnson, Tony Stewart, Mark Martin and Jeff Gordon are among the active drivers who have won multiple times on Dover's infamous "Monster Mile."

"NFL Football" Monday, Sept. 27 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): Joe Gibbs - back in Washington after an 11-year "retirement" - and Bill Parcells renew their NFC East coaching rivalry when the Redskins host the Dallas Cowboys. Each tactician knows the value

a veteran leader can have with a team, which is why it's no surprise war horses Mark Brunell and Vinny Testaverde emerged as the new quarterbacks for the Skins and Boys, respectively. Washington lost both meetings to Dallas last season by a combined 48-14 score.

"MLB Baseball" Friday, Oct. 1 (TBS, 3:15 p.m. ET): The last weekend of the regular season shapes up as mighty important for the Chicago Cubs, who host the Atlanta Braves the next three days. Aramis Ramirez has had a breakout season for Chicago, helping them stay in wild-card contention despite yielding the NL Central title to the Cardinals months ago. The NL East again belongs to the Braves, thanks to the steady hand of manager Bobby Cox and a big second half from third baseman Chipper Jones.

Celebrity Scoop

Amy Poehler

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Charlie, the man-hungry minx Amy Poehler plays on ABC's Tuesday sitcom "Rodney," is a bawdy first cousin to Annie Spadaro, the promiscuous dancer on "Caroline in the City" that earned Poehler fame (and a SAG Award nomination).

The actress says she is only too happy to play another vixen.

"I'm glad to make a living pretending to be such a 'ho,'" she laughs. "You get great lines, get to wear cool outfits and get to kiss great guys!"

Adopted as an infant, Poehler honed her imagination during a largely solitary childhood, but a high school mentor helped steer her into acting, where she knew immediately she had found her destiny.

After a solid grounding in Chicago theater, Poehler headed to Los Angeles and landed a role in "Muscle," a short-lived 1995 WB sitcom. The same casting director remembered Poehler when NBC's "Caroline in the City" was being put together.

"Looking back, that was a great experience, but it was very uneven," Poehler recalls of "Caroline." "(Co-star) Malcolm Gets got us started rehearsing after rehearsals on our own to punch up the laughs. I don't think that worked out too great for the writers, but we did a few episodes I'm really proud of."

She can't say the same for "The Weber Show," the 2000 NBC sitcom that lived up to its original title: "Cursed."

"They fired the original creative team after two episodes and the guys they brought in really weren't up to helping us the way we needed," she says. "We were literally trying to find our characters and fix the show while on the air each week in front of millions of people. That show left me with a very bad taste for sitcoms in my mouth."

Born: March 6, 1969, in Milwaukee, Wis.

Education: Graduated from the former Goodman School of Drama, now The Theatre School, at Chicago's DePaul University.

Marital status: Married to actor-director Kenny Williams since 1997.

Pets: Two dogs and a cat.

TV guest appearances: Include "Star Trek: The Next Generation," "Ally McBeal," "Conrad Bloom," "ER," "The Drew Carey Show," "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation," "I'm With Her."

Theater: Numerous roles; recently starred in Kenneth Lonergan's "Lobby Hero" directed by her husband.

Dream project: To do a film based on the life of her birth mother, who gave her up for adoption. The two met for the first time only recently.

A batboy's in the 'Clubhouse' as CBS series debuts

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Can America's favorite pastime sustain a weekly TV series?

Baseball has tried before, in both comedy ("Ball Four") and drama ("Bay City Blues"), but hopes are high as executive producers Mel Gibson and Aaron Spelling give the notion another shot. A family saga as well as the story of a ball club, the sweetly old-fashioned CBS drama "Clubhouse" gets an advanced premiere Sunday, Sept. 26, two nights before settling into its regular Tuesday slot.

The team in question is the fictional New York Empires, whose pinstripes were magically (or, more precisely, digitally) removed from the pilot episode after New York Yankees executives reportedly found the uniforms' look too close for comfort. The players include near-mythic third baseman Conrad Dean (portrayed by former TV "Superman" Dean Cain), and they have a new batboy in Pete Young (Jeremy Sumpter, "Peter Pan"), an impressionable adolescent awed at his good fortune in getting the job.

Pete doesn't want his highly protective single mother (Emmy winner Mare Winningham) interfering, so he keeps his job a secret as long as possible. That's roughly two-thirds of the way through the first script, since police catch him driving an Empire's flashy car that Pete doesn't know contains drugs. Debating whether to take the fall or tell the truth, he's counseled by the team's rough-around-the-edges equipment manager (Emmy winner Christopher Lloyd).

Kirsten Storms, who recently left the role of Belle Brady on the NBC daytime serial "Days of Our Lives," also stars in "Clubhouse" as Pete's wild-child sister. While John Ortiz and JD Pardo play other members of the Empires, 15-year-old Sumpter is happy to have landed the pivotal part of the team newcomer, especially knowing something about the sport himself.

"I've played baseball all my life," he says. "I grew up in Kentucky, and I was actually on a team that went to the state championship and won. When I came out to L.A. to act, I had to give that up a bit. Just being out there, having a bunch of people watching you play a game, gives you a thrill. I'm on a men's-league softball team with my dad; we lose every game, but we always have fun playing. I love the sport. You feel part of something when you're playing the game."

Participating in sports also is second nature to charismatic Cain, who couldn't wait to get to a CBS press party at Dodger Stadium in July so he could try to belt one out of the park. The ex-Princeton football player actually was on the Buffalo Bills' roster for "an hour and a half," he jokes of his lone, short pro-football season. "I was carried on the team 'til November, although I was on injury reserve starting at the end of July. Just before our first preseason game, I had surgery. I just sort of floated for that period of time, and I never got healthy and had to retire."

Still, the experience gave Cain a real sense of being part of a clubhouse. "There is that camaraderie, that sort of family-unit feel, and that's really important for the chemistry and makeup of a team. When I got to Buffalo, half the people - OK, 98 percent of the people - didn't know me by name. They just called me 'Princeton.'"

"There were a lot of initiation rites we had to do as rookies, like standing up on a table and singing our alma mater in a specific pose. It wasn't really flattering, but it was a lot of fun. It's a feeling-out process; then the team will grow together and either be successful with the chemistry or unsuccessful."

The baseball sequences for "Clubhouse" are filmed partially on a set with a "virtual stadium," and sometimes on location at Blair Field in Long Beach, Calif.

Executive producer Ken Topolsky ("Party of Five," "The Wonder Years") maintains the series never will be "strictly a show about baseball, but we had to put enough in so that it had a sense of reality. We don't have to have a full play run, just enough so it meets the dramatic needs of the script. I think we want to create a reality that works for our audience."

As a mother of grown children, Winningham (returning to CBS after last season's "The Brotherhood of Poland, New Hampshire") knows how real her "Clubhouse" character's domestic dilemmas are. "She has made a lot of sacrifices to make her life fit the most important thing - her kids," the actress reflects. "She took a job where she could spend time chauffeuring them, and she struggles to hold down the roles of both mother and father."

"This baseball team has all the qualities she would want for her son; a great, sort of innocent kid meets up with a hero. On the other side, she's got her wayward teenage daughter, who takes up a lot of her energy. They're two counterpoints for her to struggle between."

McCrane of 'ER' has a movie in the works

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q Has Paul McCrane done anything since leaving his "ER" role as Dr. Romano? I love his acting style! -Bette Belanger, Acushnet, Mass.

A Yes, McCrane, 43, who got his big break in the 1980 movie hit "Fame," just completed work on the film "A Year and a Day." The ensemble drama, which co-stars Fairuza Balk, is due in theaters in 2005.

Q Who played Ernest T. Bass on "The Andy Griffith Show"? -Mary, Virginia.

A Comic actor Howard Morris, who recently turned 85, played the rock-tossing mountain man. A native New Yorker, Morris got his big break as a member of the company of Sid Caesar's "Your Show of Shows."

Since the 1960s, he has been a staple of the Hanna-Barbera voice talent stable, although many fans remember Morris for his role as Mel Brooks' mentor, Professor Lillman, in the 1978 "Vertigo" spoof, "High Anxiety."

Paul McCrane

Q Michael Nouri recently joined the cast of "The Young and the Restless," but I remember him from many years ago on another soap, when both of us were thinner and had darker hair. Refresh my memory, please. -D.L.W., Cary, N.C.

A He previously has been on two. Nouri, 58, made his daytime TV debut as Tom Conway on "Somerset" (NBC, 1974-75), followed by a 1975-78 gig as Steve Kaslo on CBS' "Search for Tomorrow."

Q Didn't Julia Duffy star in a sitcom based on the movie "Look Who's Talking"? And when will complete seasons of "The Golden Girls" be available on DVD? -C.E., Columbus, Ohio.

A Duffy starred in the ABC sitcom "Baby Talk" when the show premiered in 1991, but she was replaced by Mary Page Keller in a bid to improve ratings. The show still flopped. DVD release of season one of "The Golden Girls" is set for Nov. 23. Don't forget, anyone with Internet access can check release dates at <http://www.TVShowsonDVD.com>.

Spend the day with Wally Kurth

Wally Kurth

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

If you've ever fantasized about spending a day with Peter Reckell, Matthew Ashford or Ingo Rademacher, SOAPnet has just the show for you. Hosted by "General Hospital" star Wally Kurth, "1 Day With ...," airing Saturdays, takes fans inside the personal lives of daytime's hottest stars.

Kurth, who is a big fan of MTV's "All Access" and VH1's "Bands Reunited," originally pitched ABC and Disney on the possibility of doing a similar show with four daytime stars who are also singers, but wound up with a series about what actors do on their days off.

"It has been a helluva lot of fun," Kurth declares. "I was down in Huntington Beach with Alicia Willis and she taught me how to surf. I also did a show with Peter Reckell where we went to Santa Barbara to an eco-friendly home store for materials for the new environmentally friendly home he is building. After that, we took a paragliding lesson, along with his wife, Kelly Money-maker. That was a hoot and, actually, just a little bit dangerous."

Despite Kurth's penchant for extreme-sports segments, the show sometimes wears its heart on its sleeve. Kurth's day with Ashford was spent donating blood platelets, something the "Days of Our Lives" actor does on a regular basis since his daughter had cancer and was the recipient of life-saving donations.

Dear Paulette: Please give me some information on Zach from "All My Children." Wow, is he handsome! Thank you. -Mrs. Dee, Chicago.

Dear Reader: Thorsten Kaye began playing Las Vegas casino owner Zachery Slater on May 20. He previously played Irish doctor Ian Thornhart on "Port Charles," for which he received a Daytime Emmy nom, and prior to that, he spent two years as poet Patrick Thornhart in "One Life to Live." Born in Mainz, Germany, Kaye played rugby throughout Europe before enrolling at Wayne State University, where he graduated with a masters degree in theater and theater history. His film credits include "The Bone Collector," "The Silencers" and "Deadly Desire." He has a daughter with former "Port Charles" actress Susan Haskell.

Movie: The Parent Trap

Despite several TV movie sequels and a 1998 remake, the Walt Disney-produced 1961 original still provides the most fun of all the tales in the series. Hayley Mills had one of her best roles — actually, two of them — as teenage twins Sharon and Susan, each of whom doesn't know of her look-alike until they meet at summer camp. Then, they become determined to reunite their divorced parents (Maureen O'Hara, Brian Keith).

Wing Nuts

It's not as nutty as the name implies, but this new series does rely heavily on creativity. Meet Donovan: an artist whose new business is all about transforming vintage airplanes and munitions into functional furniture. He is joined by Dave, a former businessman who invested everything in the venture, and Tim, an ex-production designer with no obvious skills but a determined personality. In "A Wing and a Prayer," a DC-9 rear stabilizer becomes a desk.

Movie: Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country

During the last voyage of the original crew of the starship Enterprise, Capt. Kirk (William Shatner) and his crew negotiate peace with the Klingon leader. But a renegade (Christopher Plummer) sets a trap, and Kirk is charged with the murder of the Klingon chancellor. Directed by Nicholas Meyer, this 1991 film also stars Leonard Nimoy, DeForest Kelley and James Doohan.

Movie: A League of Their Own

When World War II left a shortage of men to play professional sports, a women's baseball league was formed. Taken from a chapter in real-life sports history, this 1992 dramatic comedy was directed by Penny Marshall and stars Tom Hanks, Geena Davis, Madonna and Lori Petty.

TV Trivia

Buster Keaton ("Go West") worked behind the scenes at MGM in the 1930s and '40s, and coached youngsters Red Skelton and Lucille Ball.

W.C. Fields ("My Little Chickadee") was born William Claude Dukenfield. He went by many pseudonyms, including Primrose Magoo.

Growing up, Gregory Peck ("To Kill a Mockingbird") went to movies with his grandmother every week. He studied pre-med at Berkeley.

Rita Hayworth's ("Cover Girl") image was once glued to an A-bomb that was dropped on Bikini Atoll during an atomic-bomb test in 1946.

Actor Russell Johnson ("Tumbleweed") received a Purple Heart after his B-24 Liberator bomber was shot down during World War II.

Sunday Best Bets

12 p.m. on TNT NASCAR Racing

NASCAR's Nextel Cup series makes its second trip of the season to Dover International Speedway, which is also the site for the second race in the Cup-concluding "Chase for the Championship." Jimmie Johnson, Tony Stewart, Mark Martin and Jeff Gordon are among the active drivers who have won multiple times on Dover's infamous "Monster Mile."

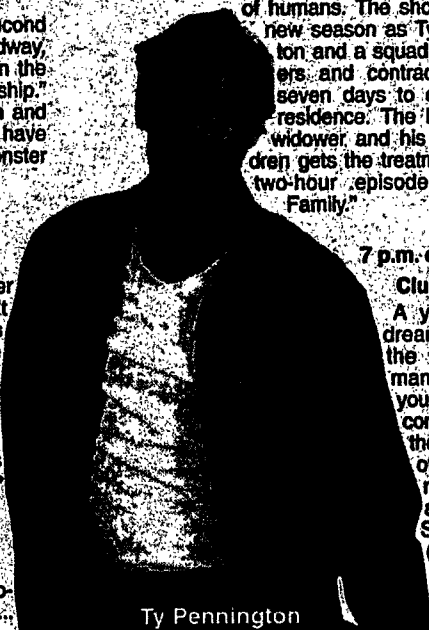

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX Fashion Rocks

As the Victoria's Secret specials and other shows have proven, fashion and music don't have to be mutually exclusive — which this new offering reconfirms. Taped earlier in the month at Radio City Music Hall in New York, the event merges performances by such stars as Beyoncé, Usher, Rod Stewart and Alicia Keys with designs by icons like Ralph Lauren, Gucci and Tommy Hilfiger. Denis Leary ("Rescue Me") is the host.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Extreme Makeover: Home Edition
In the era of "Trading Spaces," home-renovation shows have drawn huge audiences thus, ABC's inspiration to spin off the "Extreme Makeover" concept and apply it to places instead of humans. The show starts a new season as Ty Pennington and a squad of designers and contractors have seven days to overhaul a residence. The home of a widower and his eight children gets the treatment in the two-hour episode "Wofford Family."

Ty Pennington

7 p.m. on 4-CBS Clubhouse

A youngster's dream — and the dream of many other youngsters — comes true in the premiere of this drama series as Jeremy Sumpter ("Peter Pan") plays the new batboy for a professional New York baseball team. His mother (Mare Winningham) initially doesn't suspect he's in league with the team's star (Dean Cain) and equipment manager (Christopher Lloyd).

7 p.m. on 38-WB Charmed

Piper, Phoebe and Paige (Holly Marie Combs, Alyssa Milano, Rose McGowan) act like children — literally — in the new episode "Cheaper by the Coven." Grams (guest star Jennifer Rhodes) accidentally causes them to revert to much younger behavior through a spell that goes awry. A seer (guest star Charisma Carpenter, "Angel") helps Leo (Brian Krause) determine who attacked Wyatt.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC American Dreams

Brandy portrays singer Gladys Knight, and performs "I Heard It Through the Grapevine," as the nostalgic drama series starts its third season with "Long Shots & Short Skirts." Meg's (Brittany Snow) protest-related arrest affects Jack's (Tom Verica) political aspirations, but she's not done speaking out. She joins Roxanne (Vanessa Lengies) in opposing a new dress code at school. JJ (Will Estes) recuperates in a military hospital.

8 p.m. on 38-WB Jack & Bobby

Bobby's (Logan Lerman) new mission at school ends up yielding Grace (Christine Lahti) surprising information about Jack (Matt Long) in the new episode "The Kindness of Strangers." Paul Sorvino ("GoodFellas") guest stars as a person who will prove politically, and surprisingly, valuable to President McCallister in the future.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC Law & Order: Criminal Intent

The death of a controversial radio personality may not be a suicide as initially suspected in the fourth-season premiere, "Semi-Detached." After learning his supposed antidepressants were something else, Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) turn their attention to an obsessed devotee of the dead man's program.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC Crossing Jordan

Medical examiner Jordan (Jill Hennessy) comes face-to-face with danger during a Boston blackout as "After Dark" opens the drama series' fourth season. The power outage hits as she and Bug (Ravi Kapoor) are driving through a tunnel — as are criminals making a getaway after staging a jewel heist.

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE

Use the clues to help unscramble the four jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four words.

GMNUMA Clue: A TV Thomas
SESCSCU Clue: Popular actor's achievement
RANETWH Clue: Long-running sitcom
PDROAEYJ Clue: A.T.'s show

Then arrange the circled letters to form the bonus answer, as suggested by the above cartoon and bonus clue.

Bonus Jumbles: PURSER, TRIPPER, BOULDER, MATLOCK
 Answers to 9/19/2004: Bonus: This actress, who starred on a sitcom that shared part of her name, was born in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Monday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

North Shore

Alexandra (guest star Shannyn Doherty) helps Nicole (Brooke Burns) learn more about their family's suspect background in the new episode "Bellport." They find the Booth clan's ex-housekeeper, who proves quite informative — to the possible detriment of Waller (guest star Christopher McDonald). Tessa (Amanda Righetti) uncovers facts that could impact Vincent's (James Remar) hold on the resort.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

7th Heaven

Eric (Stephen Collins) makes Lucy (Beverley Mitchell) his associate pastor in the new episode "The Song of Lucy." Simon (David Gallagher) reveals the true reason for his involvement with Georgia (guest star Rheagan Wallace). A fellow detention observer (guest star Aaron Carter) attracts Ruthie (Mackenzie Rosman), but Martin (Tyler Hoechlin) worries about their potential involvement.

NFL Football

Joe Gibbs — back in Washington after an 11-year "retirement" — and Bill Parcells renew their NFC East coaching rivalry when the Redskins host the Dallas Cowboys. Each tactician knows the value a veteran leader can have with a team, which is why it's no surprise war horses Mark Brunell and Vinny Testaverde emerged as the new quarterbacks for the Skins and Boys, respectively. Washington lost both meetings to Dallas last season by a combined 48-14 score.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Everwood

Since it cuts into his time with Amy (Emily VanCamp), Ephram (Gregory Smith) resents having agreed to keep an eye on Hannah (Sarah Drew) in the new episode "Staking Claim." The situation is complicated further by Amy and Hannah's new friendship.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Las Vegas

Old enemies frame Ed (James Caan) as a murder suspect in the new episode "Blood Is Thicker." Danny and Mike (Josh Duhamel, James Lesure) covertly launch their own probe of the homicide. New homeowners Sam, Nessa, Mary and Delinda (Vanessa Marcil, Marsha Thomason, Nikki Cox, Molly Sims) aren't pleased with the caliber of potential tenants.

9 p.m. on MTV

Road Rules

It's been an "Xtreme" season indeed for the six young travelers who have faced major challenges at each locale they've visited — but their biggest test awaits them as the unscripted show from the makers of "The Real World" ends its season.

My Wife and Kids

Michael (Damon Wayans) is upset when his traditional child-care methods earn him a failing grade in a related course in the new episode "Child-care Class." As a result, Jr. and Vanessa (George O. Gore II, Brooklyn Sudano) don't trust him with their baby, so he strives to find a way to prove himself a responsible sitter.

NCIS

The "JAG" spinoff drops "Navy" from its title and starts its second season with "In the Dark," in which Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and his associates go after the kidnapped wife and daughter (guest stars Elyse Pouget and Abigail Breslin) of a Navy captain (guest star David Keith, "An Officer and a Gentleman"). The abductor monitors the captain via webcam, giving Gibbs a huge challenge in his effort to foil the ransom scheme.

Gilmore Girls

After getting a call from Rory (Alexis Bledel), Lorelai (Lauren Graham) gives Dean (Jared Padalecki) a letter Rory wrote him in the new episode "A Messenger, Nothing More." Lindsay (Arielle Kebble) finds it, then throws Dean out — with matters only getting worse when Rory comes home from Rome. Luke (Scott Patterson) also returns to Stars Hollow and tries to find private time with Lorelai.

Movie: The Shawshank Redemption

Movie: The Shawshank Redemption
Tim Robbins gives a quietly compelling performance in this 1994 drama as a mild-mannered banker wrongfully convicted of murder.

murder and sentenced to life in prison. Armed only with his wits, he becomes a powerful presence behind the walls, to the benefit of his fellow inmates and, ultimately, himself. Morgan Freeman earned an Oscar nomination for his portrayal of Andy's friend Red, who narrates the story.

George Lopez

Some serious matters fuel the sitcom's fourth-season opening episode, "George Searches for a Needle in a Haight Stack." George and Vic (George Lopez, Emiliano Diaz) comb the Haight-Ashbury district for runaway Carmen (Masiela Lusha) — and find her tailing rap star Chingy (who guest stars as himself) as a groupie. Comedian Carrot Top also guest stars in dream sequences.

According to Jim

Jim and Cheryl (Jim Belushi, Courtney Thorne-Smith) have differing plans for an evening in the new episode "The Effort." She wants a night of romance, but all he wants to do is watch a fight on television.

One Tree Hill

Singer Huey Lewis and Bess Armstrong ("My So-Called Life") guest star as Haley's (Bethany Joy Lenz) parents, who approve of her marriage to Nathan (James Lafferty). In the new episode "Truth Doesn't Make a Noise," Deb (Barbara Alyn Woods), however, isn't quite as understanding. Recovering from his heart attack, Dan (Paul Johansson) tries for new beginnings with Deb and Lucas (Chad Michael Murray).

Father of the Pride

Sierra (voice of Danielle Andrea Harris) defends a political-minded lobster (voice of guest star Danny DeVito) destined to become someone's dinner in the new episode "And the Revolution Continues." Larry (voice of John Goodman) tries to score points with Sierra by giving the lobster his freedom, only to regret it. An imminent visit by Barbra Streisand thrills Siegfried and Roy.

Veronica Mars

Wee'ill (Francis Capra) is arrested for alleged theft of credit-card applications in the new episode "Credit Where Credit's Due." Veronica and Wallace (Kristen Bell, Percy Daggs III) try to prove him innocent. Paris Hilton guest stars as Logan's (Jason Doherty) new girlfriend, with whom Veronica collides.

Movie: Jane's House

James Woods reteams with director Glenn Jordan — who guided the actor to an Emmy win for the 1986 movie "Promise" — for this well-acted 1994 drama about a recent widower who struggles to adjust to his new relationship with a former-tennis star (Anne Archer). San Francisco Giants outfielder Barry Bonds appears as himself.

Wednesday Best Bets

6:45 p.m. and AMC

Movie: La Bamba

Lou Diamond Phillips stars in this acclaimed 1987 biopic as Ritchie Valens, the teenage Latin American rock star whose red-hot career was cut short by the 1959 plane crash remembered as "the day the music died." Esai Morales and Elizabeth Peña also star. The band Los Lobos delivers a memorable soundtrack, including a rendition of Valens' hit "La Bamba."

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

That '70s Show

Hyde (Danny Masterson) has a couple of career options in the new episode "Beast of Burden." He must decide whether to go to work for his real father (guest star Tim Reid) or for new-muttler-shop owner Red (Kurtwood Smith). Fez (Wilmer Valderrama) goes to work at a beauty shop, literally lathering up the clientele. Guest star Tanya Roberts returns as Donna's (Laura Prepon) mother.

Lost

Jack (Matthew Fox) and the other stranded passengers have hope of rescue after finding a transceiver in the remains of their airplane in Part 2 of the new drama series' pilot episode. Other discoveries, including handcuffs and a gun, make the group fear what might lie in wait for them.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

Lionel Luthor (John Glover) suspects the apparently murdered Chloe (Allison Mack) is still alive, prompting him to send an unusually gifted killer after her. In the new episode "Gone," Clark and Lois (Tom Welling, Erica Durance) start their own investigation of the murder, only to be blocked by a military man (guest star Michael Ironside, "Top Gun") who is Lois' father.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Hawaii

Gains (Eric Balfour) is left to fend for himself after he and Edwards (Ivan Sergei) invade a marijuana-growing island that maintains independent status in the new episode "No Man Is an Island." The ensuing melee leaves Gains stranded at the site — and Edwards battling diplomatic red tape to save him. Convinced he is an assassination target, a cab driver shoots a passenger.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Quintuplets

Bob (Andy Richter) insinuates his way into Parker's (Jake McDorman) rock band, then really has to prove his worth. In the new episode "Battle of the Bands," the group gets the chance to compete against others in a music showdown, placing possible victory squarely on Bob's shoulders.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Bernie Mac Show

Bernie (Bernie Mac) is certain he'll make a better driving teacher for Vanessa (Camille Winbush) than Warren (Kellita Smith) in the new episode "Mac Overdrive." He proves to have little patience for the job, and while out for one spin, matters get much worse when Bernie's license is revoked and his car taken from him. He then has to rely on others for transportation.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 12-ABC

The Bachelor

Outsiders, much less celebrity outsiders, usually don't figure into this unscripted series — but as proven by last week's episode, in which the women selected which of two bachelors they would vie for, all bets are off this season. Thus, singer-actress Brandy ("Mo'Nisha") turns up in this new episode to perform music from her recently released album "Afrodisiac."

8 p.m. on 38-WB

The Mountain

Being jailed after a bar fracas doesn't do much for David's (Oliver Hudson) reputation, nor his relationship with Will (Anson Mount), in the new episode "Unbroken." Trying to earn his trust, Max (Elizabeth Bogush) tells David about the designs others have on the mountain.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The Apprentice

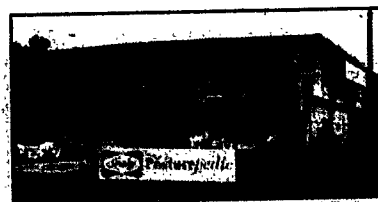

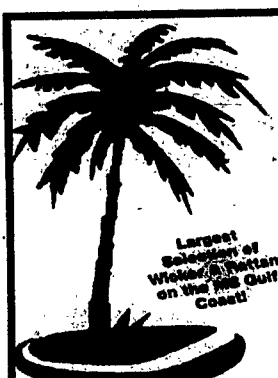

If some of the remaining 15 candidates for Donald Trump's favor don't eat the others alive, at least they're guaranteed to eat well in the new episode "The Last Supper." Their latest mission takes them into the heart of the New York restaurant business, with one team using an unconventional — and rather personal — approach to gain an advantage.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
Joey

If Joey (Matt LeBlanc) doesn't get a new appreciation of authors, at least his social life may improve in the new episode "Joey and the Book Club." Hoping to meet women, he joins the book club run by Michael (Paulo Costanzo). Gina (Drea de Matteo) is inspired by a former cosmetology-school classmate to pursue a similar celebrity-hairstylist status.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC
Will & Grace

Grace starts attending Alcoholics Anonymous meetings with ulterior motives in the new episode "One Gay at a Time." She goes for freebies including therapy and doughnuts, but her unexpected encounter with Val (returning guest star Molly Shannon) may expose Grace's game. Participating in a TV focus group gets Will (Eric McCormack) ejected — and Jack (Sean Hayes) hired by the network.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

6-NBC on 19-PBS

Presidential Debate

They've certainly been talking a lot about each other on their respective campaign trails in recent months. Now, President George W. Bush and Sen. John Kerry come face-to-face as their first debate is staged at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla.

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Forget Me Never

Mia Farrow still looks far younger than her age, which works in her favor in this fact-based 1999 drama about younger people with Alzheimer's disease. She plays a busy lawyer and mom whose memory lapses indicate the worst: early-onset Alzheimer's. As she and her family struggle to deal with the frightening diagnosis, she finds help in a support group she starts for fellow sufferers.

9 p.m. on AMC

Movie: The Terminator

Arnold Schwarzenegger plays a cyborg from the future, sent back in time to prevent the birth of a revolutionary leader by rubbing out his mom-to-be (Linda Hamilton).

Saturday Best Bets

4 p.m. on TNT

From the Earth to the Moon

In "We Have Cleared the Tower," Part 3 of the award-winning 12-part miniseries, a documentary film crew records the nerve-racking 24 hours leading up to the launch of Apollo 7 as Wally Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walt Cunningham (Mark Harmon, John Mese, Fredric Lane) wait to become the first American trio in space. Peter Horton, Daniel Hugh Kelly and Ann Magnuson co-star; several more episodes follow.

7 p.m. and AMC

Movie: The Sons of Katie Elder

One of the best of John Wayne's later Westerns, this 1965 saga casts him, Dean Martin, Earl Holliman and Michael Anderson Jr. as Texas siblings mourning the death of their mother. Subsequent events prompt them to avenge the wrongs done to both of their late parents. The supporting cast includes genre staples Jeremy Slate, James Gregory, Paul Fix ("The Rifleman"), and stars-to-be Dennis Hopper and George Kennedy.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: American Wedding

The third installment of the "American Pie" comedy series tones down the gross-out quotient a bit, owing to the sweeter-than-usual story of Jim and Michelle's (Jason Biggs, Alyson Hannigan) impending marriage. Ever-bawdy Stifler (Seann William Scott) is still around, though, to make sure things don't get too saccharine. Original cast members Eddie Kaye Thomas, Thomas Ian Nicholas and Eugene Levy also return for this 2003 chapter.

9 p.m. on 8-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

Munch and Tutuola (Richard Belzer, Ice-T) are stunned by the sequence of events they uncover in probing a child's emergency-room death in "Careless." The youngster died following an exorcismlike church gathering, but prolonged child abuse ultimately is exposed as the real reason for the tragedy. CCH Pounder ("The Shield") and Julie Hagerty ("Airplane") guest star.

9:30 p.m. on AMC

Movie: She Wore a Yellow Ribbon

One of the all-time great Westerns, director John Ford's 1949 saga stars one of his most frequent collaborators — John Wayne — as an about-to-retire Cavalry officer whose final mission means great peril for him and those he must protect from an Indian attack. Many of his charges are women, represented principally by Joanne Dru and Mildred Natwick; genre staples John Agar, Ben Johnson and Harry Carey Jr. co-star.
